Vancouver Police Hunt Milk Wagon Bandits Oakalla Fugitive At Work To-day In Vancouver, Police Say

Two Auto Bandits Surprise Three Milk Wagon Drivers in Terminal City and Rob Two of Them; Police State One of Bandits Believed To Be E. Wilcox, Photos of Whom Officers Have; He Escaped With F. McDougall From Oakalla March 5.

Canadian Press
Vancouver, March 12.—One of two bandits who held up three milk wagon drivers in the east end of Vancouver early this morning is believed to be Ellis Wilcox, fugitive with Fraser McDougall from the Oakalla jail, from which they escaped March 5. They broke from jail after surprising a guard and a Victoria police officer and pointing revolvers. Partial identification has been made, police say, from the rogues' gallery photographs of Wilcox.

Operating from an automobile which had been stolen, the men staged the robberies within a few hours of each other. H. M. Graves, driver for the Valley Dairy, was delivering milk in the 2,800 block of Eton Street at 5.55 a.m., when a car drove up beside him. One man stepped out of the vehicle and, covering him with a revolver, ordered him to hold up his hands. A second man remained at the steering wheel of the car.

FIRE SHOT
Instead of obeying the order and submitting quietly to being robbed, Graves shouted for help. With a curse the gunman fired a shot at Graves, then leaped into the automobile and was driven away.

Five minutes later the same automobile drove up beside Van Dewar, employee of the Crystal Dairy, who was making deliveries of milk in the 1,800 block of Gravelly Street. A man with a revolver jumped out and compelled him to stand while being searched and relieved of $1.50.

LOST $18 AND TICKETS
The next victim of the bandits was J. Wood, also a driver for the Crystal Dairy, who was held up in the 2,500 block of Turner Street and robbed of $18 in cash and $15 in milk tickets.

Police some hours after the last robbery found the car used by the gunmen and discovered it had been stolen from a resident of Shaughnessy Heights. In it were found the tickets stolen from Wood.

EMBARGOES BY SOVIET SOON

All-Union Congress Instructs Government to Move Against Canada and Other Countries

Associated Press
Moscow, March 12.—Resolutions recommending retaliatory measures against nations which, like Canada, have imposed embargoes on imports from Russia were approved to-day by the Sixth All-Union Soviet Congress.

One sixth resolution, coming at the close of discussion on Premier Molotov's opening speech last Sunday, "instructs the government to take measures restricting imports from countries barring our exports." The United States was not specifically mentioned, but the resolution was presumably aimed in that direction.

The Congress urged the government to carry forward its policy of international peace and to continue strengthening trade relations with other nations, at the same time recommending more attention be given the army in view of the "capitalist war threat."

Complete collectivization of the farms was urged, with elimination of the kulaks, or rich peasants, as a class.

GUARDS RAID RALPH CAPONE'S CHICAGO CLUB

Associated Press
Chicago, March 12.—Federal prohibition agents early to-day raided the Cotton Club of Ralph Capone in suburban Cicero and called for acetylene torches with which to open the same in an effort to obtain records for use in their investigation of the liquor traffic.

When the safe was opened a short time later a number of records were seized and taken at once to the federal building.

The raid itself was the upshot of a previous visit to the club by Roy Budd and Dan Copeley, federal prohibition officers.

MILL RATE REDUCED TO FORTY-FIVE

City Council Gets Over Two-mill Relief From Sinking Fund Surplus

School Board Chops Off Another Mill With Aid of Government Grant

After nearly two weeks' anxious consideration, the City Council and School Board yesterday dug once again into the civic estimates for the year and emerged with the hopeful announcement that approximately $110,000 could be cut off the liability of the taxpayers. This will reduce the proposed mill rate from forty-eight to nearly forty-five mills.

It took the council, meeting in committee of the whole, two hours yesterday afternoon, to decide on allocating an extra $80,000 of the sinking fund surplus toward reducing the mill rate. The suggestion that this surplus be brought to the rescue was first made in council two weeks ago by Alderman E. A. C. Dewar, and the board finally wound up by adopting the move and digging even deeper than proposed into the fund. There was a total balance of $125,000 in the surplus, of which it was planned to use $20,000 for debt charges. The extra $80,000 will bring the total relief from this source to $100,000.

SCHOOL BOARD'S CUT
Meanwhile the School Board, in camera session, found that it could slice $10,000 off its regular estimates, and this, added to $20,000 relief coming from the extra provincial government grant, would enable the trustees to reduce the budget by slightly more than $30,000. Municipal Inspector George H. Deane explained the increase in the government grant to teachers' salaries would amount to about $17,375, with an additional grant of $3,000 to Victoria College costs.

In addition, the board plans to reduce the teaching staff by twelve teachers at September 1, giving a saving of $5,000 in salaries for the last four months of the year. Another $5,000 was cut from general estimates.

While the council struck off two mills with one blow by appropriating the sinking fund surplus, other suggestions for reductions failed to get approval. It is understood. Selling of unsold waterworks debentures, mooted several times, was regarded as illegal. Reductions in civic salaries was discussed, but was not adopted, although it was pointed out no wage increases would be given. The grant to the publicity bureau was also unchanged, and proposals for borrowing on treasury notes were turned down.

FOUR AND A HALF MILL INCREASE
When the council meets Monday night for consideration of the tax question, it is expected that a rate of forty-five mills will be struck. This will be an increase of four and one-half mills over last year's rate of 40.5.

INCOME TAX IS PROTESTED

North Vancouver, B.C., March 12.—The Toimie Government's proposal to impose a 1 per cent super tax on wages throughout British Columbia has resulted in an almost unanimous decision by members of the North Vancouver municipal council to forward a formal protest to Victoria. The resolution opposes any such tax on salaries of $20 a week or less.

The resolution was passed at a council meeting yesterday evening.

New Duties Announced And Economy Promised By Bennett As M.P.'s Meet

Session Is Opened at Ottawa With Speech From Throne Which Says Parliament Will Be Asked to Consider "Further Revision of Tariff" and Create Tariff Board; Further Aid For Prairie Wheat Marketing; Speech Read By Mr. Justice Duff As Administrator

Ottawa, March 12.—Plans of the Bennett Government for legislation were indicated in the Speech from the Throne at the opening of the session of Parliament this afternoon as follows:
Further tariff revision, with "incidental adjustments" to present British preference schedules.
Bill to create a tariff board.

Bills "for the more effective control of national finance, for the revision of the existing provisions for government purchases, for amending the Naturalization Act and for amending the Copyright Act."

Action to be taken with respect to old age pensions; aid to agriculture, technical education and highway construction.
Estimates to be cut down.
Announcement was made the government would be prepared to give further assistance in the marketing of Canadian wheat.
Radio legislation will be postponed until the opinion of the courts on the radio reference has been obtained.

SCENE OF COLOR
The session was opened to-day with all the color which custom has decreed. Under a bright, though somewhat overcast sky, Rt. Hon. Lyman P. Duff, Administrator and Acting Chief Justice of Canada, drove with his flashing cavalry escort to the Parliament Buildings. Guns boomed forth the vice-regal salute, the National Anthem rang out from the band of the Governor-General's Footguards, and the guard of honor snapped to attention as the first native Canadian to perform the opening ceremony of a session here stepped from his car on Parliament Hill at 3 p.m.

In the Commons chamber, members from the four corners of Canada had gathered, awaiting the summons to the Senate. In the red chamber, to which the Administrator proceeded, escorted by senior officers of the naval, military and air forces of Canada, a colorful assembly sat. The floor of the chamber, on which only a single Canadian woman has the right to take a seat during the session, was occupied this afternoon by many women dressed in beautiful gowns. The galleries were filled, also largely with women dressed for the occasion. Uniforms of representatives of the various branches of the armed forces vied with the women's dress in contributing to the color of the scene.

PARADE OF M.P.'S
Then came the summons by Black Rod, followed by the parade of Commons members down the long corridor to the Senate chamber. There, at the bar, beyond which members of the House of Commons are held by tradition from going, they listened to the Throne Speech. In both the official languages of Canada, Mr. Justice Duff touched briefly on events which have occurred since the last session of Parliament and indicated features of the legislative programme the Bennett Cabinet expects to ask the members to enact in the weeks to come.

The speech made, and a copy of it delivered to Hon. George Black, Speaker of the House, the Commons members returned to their own chamber for a short period before adjournment. The second session of Canada's Seventeenth Parliament had opened.

TEXT OF SPEECH
The Administrator read the Speech from the Throne as follows:
"Honorable members of the Senate: 'Members of the House of Commons: 'I welcome you to your duties at this time when the nations of the world are passing through a period of great economic depression. Canada has not escaped it, but the Canadian people have met the trials of the moment with patience and fortitude and are facing the future with the courage and faith which must triumph over every difficulty. In prosperity they were united. In adversity that union is made still stronger by the spirit of co-operation and mutual understanding which is the surest bulwark of the nation's welfare and happiness."
"These attributes of Canadianism are national assets of real value, and upon their possession, I do profoundly congratulate you."
"It will be your privilege to consider certain measures designed by my ministers to ameliorate existing conditions."

This office will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. until April 4, which will be the last day for registration.

MORE THAN 200 CHINESE ARE LOST AT SEA

Coasting Steamer, Wrecked By Explosions, Sinks Sixty Miles From Yangtse Mouth

Shanghai, March 12.—More than 205 Chinese were listed as dead to-day following the burning of the Chinese coastal steamer Pachi, which exploded and sank sixty miles north of the mouth of the Yangtze River.

A revenue cruiser and native boats picked up 180 of the approximately 400 persons on board. Those rescued had leaped into the sea from the flaming vessel.

The explosion occurred yesterday evening when some of the 100 Chinese soldiers aboard threw cigarette stubs into the cotton cargo. Flames whirled through the hold and a second explosion followed. A session here stepped from his car on Parliament Hill at 3 p.m.

Twelve Speed Records for Chrysler!

Chrysler Imperial Eight now holds all A.A.A. Contest Board Stock Car Speed Records in its Class for one to five miles

At Daytona Beach, Florida—February 13, 14, 15—A Chrysler Imperial Eight captured all twelve stock car speed records in its class that are recognized by the A.A.A. Contest Board for one to five miles. Closed car and open car records—new records for one to five miles from a standing start—new records for one to five miles from a flying start—under strict supervision and electrically timed by A.A.A. Contest Board officials.

The cars were selected, checked and certified by A.A.A. representatives as being stock models in every detail—and the runs were made fully equipped, even to spare tires, with nothing removed, nothing added, nothing changed whatsoever.

Twelve official records. Let us mail you a folder giving full details of these records, or tell you the story in our showroom. Drive a Chrysler and learn the difference between Chrysler performance and the performance of all other motor cars.

BRAZIL BARS IMPORTATION OF MACHINERY

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, March 12—A decree was signed yesterday by President Vargas prohibiting for three years the importation into Brazil of machinery for manufacturing purposes, because of conditions of overproduction believed by the government to exist in textile and allied industries. The decree demands an inventory of all machinery in Brazil be completed within sixty days.

Washington, March 12—The embargo placed by President Vargas of Brazil on imports of industrial machinery to that country for three years was described today by United States Commerce Department officials as the most drastic course adopted by a South American country recently. The market was regarded in this country as one of the most important outlets for such products.

There are about 340 structures of twenty or more floors in the United States, about half of them being in New York City.

POINT BARROW BATTLES WAVE OF DIPHTHERIA

Conditions at Wainwright, Alaska, Also Cause Anxiety

Associated Press
Point Barrow, Alaska, March 12—A renewed outbreak of diphtheria gripped this settlement today, overflowing the only hospital with patients. Anxiety among health authorities rose because virtually all available anti-toxin had been used.
Dr. Henry Grist of the Presbyterian Hospital said the health bureau at Fairbanks, which sent up a supply of anti-toxin here last Sunday with Joe Crosson, airplane pilot, had advised him it was hesitant about sending more serum by plane because of the expense.
The physician replied financial considerations were secondary. He said that if the situation here should become more serious, more than 600,000 units of anti-toxin would be needed.

MOVIE PLANES
Motion picture company airplanes at Fairbanks were reported earlier in the week to be arranging to transport additional serum, but whether financial arrangements were preventing this was not definitely stated.
Two men cases of the disease appeared here yesterday and two more houses were quarantined. No one is allowed to enter or leave Point Barrow without special permission. There is no physician at Wainwright. Dr. Grist is caring for patients at Point Hope and Demarcation also.
The physician said first immunization treatments here had not all proved effective because some of the serum was old and the doses necessarily small, due to the short supply.

Interpreter's Work At Trial Is Basis Of Man's Appeal

Vancouver, March 12.—Pleading through an interpreter that the interpreter assigned him at his trial had not interpreted the evidence correctly, Ernest Freywald, a German, appeared in person before the Court of Appeal here yesterday. He is appealing from a conviction in the County Court at Kelowna for forgery and a sentence of one year imposed by Judge Swanson.

The court directed Judge Swanson to make a report in answer to the prisoner's allegations, contained in the notice of appeal.
Freywald claims he was misjudged, that he did not know how to defend himself, that the interpreter, a German-Rumanian, did not understand his language, and that he has three witnesses to prove he did not commit the crime.

The appeal will come up for hearing March 23.

NEW FLAGS FOR NEWFOUNDLAND

St. John's, Nfld., March 12—A new proposal for development of the Grand River timber areas and water powers and a favorable trade balance were reported in the speech from the Throne read by Sir John Middleton, governor, when the third session of the present General Assembly of Newfoundland was opened yesterday. Legislation forecast included a marine advocating official and mercantile marine flags of a distinct type for Newfoundland.

BY-ELECTION IN BRITAIN IS WON BY CONSERVATIVE

Canadian Press
Salsbury, Wiltshire, Eng., March 12—The Conservative Party retains the Salsbury seat in the Commons which a greatly-increased majority as a result of yesterday's by-election. The vote, announced today, was as follows: Major de Spencer Robertson, Conservative, 15,000; Mrs. C. F. G. Masterman, Liberal, 9,586 and F. B. Hancock, Labor, 3,939.

The Conservative vote was slightly higher than in the last general election, despite a big reduction in the total vote.
The seat was rendered vacant by the retirement of Hugh Morrison, Conservative. The vote in 1929 was: Morrison, Conservative, 15,672; Mrs. Masterman, Liberal, 13,022 and Hancock, Labor, 4,435.

TO FLY MINERS INTO NORTHLAND

Winnipeg, March 12.—Primarily for the transportation of miners and supplies to the new mining areas of Great Bear Lake and the Coppermine River, in the Northwest Territories, a new Canadian aviation company with capital of $160,000 and a fleet of six planes, has been organized.
It will be known as the Spence-McDonough Air Transports Limited, with headquarters in Edmonton and a sub-office in Winnipeg. An operational base will be maintained at Waterways, Alberta.

F. Balles of Toronto, is president. W. A. Spence, noted Canadian airman, is vice-president, and Captain W. J. McDonough is managing director. Captain McDonough is in Winnipeg today en route to Edmonton, following completion of the always company financing in Toronto.

GERMAN PAPERS GIVE VIEWS ON NEW NAVAL PACT

Berlin, March 12.—Berlin newspapers today offer divergent editorial comments on the announcement of the terms of the British-Franco-Italian naval pact.

The Social Democratic Vorwarts hailed the action of France and Italy in joining with Great Britain, the United States and Japan as an epochal victory for the British Labor Party in being instrumental in bringing about a stabilization of armaments.

"Britain rules the waves no more," said the paper. "Instead there has come a naval truce, and the way is clear for German expansion."
The Boersen Courier, Democratic organ, said the pact amounted only to adoption of the rules for a game based on equality between the players. It demanded for Germany the same equality, hitherto denied her.

The Centrist organ Germania commented cautiously that the conclusion of the pact represented notable progress.

BANDITS ALONG YANGTSE MAKE MANY ATTACKS

Shanghai, March 12.—United States gunboats patrolling the Yangtze River, between Nanking and Chungking, have been attacked by bandit shore batteries thirty-seven times since last July, while United States armed guards aboard commercial vessels suffered eighty-seven attacks during the period, naval circles have revealed.
The number of attacks was believed to constitute a record for an eight months' period since United States gunboats began the United States Yangtze patrol in 1870.

Warships of other nations engaged in the river patrol suffered a similar unprecedented number of attacks during the last year.
United States gunboats protect American interests along nearly 1,000 miles of the river between Nanking, capital of China, and Chungking, Szechwan province, far in the interior. Several United States sailors were wounded in attacks during the last eight months. On the other hand, United States gunboats killed scores and wounded countless other bandits in the many encounters.

Warehouse Tax On Wheat Held In France Raised

Canadian Press
Paris, March 12.—The Ministry of Agriculture yesterday denied to the Canadian Press reports originating in Winnipeg that a special tax had been placed on Australian wheat imported into France.

"Australian wheat is treated exactly like the Canadian-North American product," an official of the department said. "What probably gave rise to the report of an additional tax is the fact Parliament has voted an increase in the warehouse tax on all wheat at sea-ports from sixty francs a ton to 300 francs."

The Manitoba Press Tuesday published a report stating the French Government had placed an import tax of $2.50 a bushel against Australian wheat compared with 84 cents levied on wheat of other countries entering France. The report said it was apparently a retaliatory measure following the heavy duties placed on French goods entering Australia.

TWO BOMBS SET OFF IN HAVANA

Havana, Cuba, March 12.—Two bombs exploded loudly in uptown Havana yesterday evening, one at L and San Lazaro Streets opposite Havana University and the other at San Jose and Infanta Streets, where another bomb went off Tuesday evening. There was slight damage to paving.
Two workmen and three students were detained when police, acting on information that subversive literature was being printed, raided the Workmen's Centre yesterday evening.

WOOD ALCOHOL DRINKERS DIE

Three Glace Bay Residents Succumb; No Hope For Fourth of Party

Glace Bay, N.S., March 12.—With three Glace Bay citizens dead, a fourth today was in a serious condition in the Glace Bay General Hospital, a victim of wood alcohol poisoning as were the three.

Those who lost their lives were: Angus MacDonald, sixty-five, miner; Alex Nicholson, thirty-eight, miner; Jack McGillivray, forty, miner.

Seriously ill is William Williams, sixty-five, miner.
The four gathered last Monday in a one-roomed shack at the Sterling Mine, where Williams resided, taking with them a one-quart bottle of alcohol diluted with water. At 6 p.m., according to Williams, Nicholson and McGillivray left his place for their homes. MacDonald remained at the shack all night.

All four gathered at the shack again Tuesday, but whether or not they had more alcohol the police were unable to determine.

MacDonald later was taken seriously ill and efforts of doctors to revive him were futile. Three hours later Nicholson and McGillivray were taken violently ill and they died within a few minutes of each other yesterday. Small hopes are held for the recovery of Williams.

New Catalanian Group Working For Spanish Republic

Barcelona, Spain, March 12.—Two of the strongest of the many regional political parties in Catalonia, merging into a new group called the New Catalanian Republican Party, yesterday announced a general party assembly for March 22 to line up a programme for the municipal election April 12.

The new faction, composed of the Accio Catalina and the Accio Republicana, favors establishment of a Spanish republic, but wants only administrative autonomy for Catalonia instead of separation from the rest of Spain, which some of the other Republican parties advocate.

In a manifesto yesterday announcing the merger the party leaders said they would continue to work for an eventual Spanish republic with equal liberty for all Spanish citizens and administrative autonomy for Catalonia.
The consolidation was for the immediate purpose of strengthening support for candidates of the merged parties in the municipal election. A date will be chosen and campaign details worked out at the March 22 meeting.

Liquor Advertising Ban in Ontario

Toronto, March 12.—Legislation to prevent entry into Ontario of publications carrying liquor advertising, and purchase and scrapping of distilleries and breweries in Ontario by the federal government, were advocated as temperance measures at the closing session of the annual convention of the Ontario Prohibition Union here yesterday.

While the law of Ontario forbade advertising of liquor, entrance of newspapers and magazines from other provinces transgressed this law. It was contended. A resolution was passed in which the federal government would be urged to enact legislation to reinforce the provincial law.

Purchase of all distilleries and breweries in Canada with federal funds and scrapping of all alcohol producing equipment other than that required for the production of industrial alcohol, were suggested by Rev. J. N. Norton, Welland. He believed the Dominion Government would be further ahead from an economic standpoint.

INDUSTRIES DUE FOR REVIVAL

CANADIAN PRODUCERS HAVE been asked many times how it is that a business with Great Britain in butter, cheese, bacon and hams worth nearly $70,000,000 as recently as 1926 has dropped to less than $22,000,000, and is still decreasing. The question is particularly pertinent as far as bacon is concerned, because the people of the United Kingdom have increased their appetite for this form of food from a consumption of 365,000,000 pounds in 1922 to 1,029,000,000 pounds in 1930, yet Canada's share of this trade was just a little more than one and one-half per cent last year. The following table, however, showing the value of our exports of the commodities in question to the United Kingdom from 1926 to 1930, is self-explanatory:

	Butter	Cheese	Bacon	And Hams
1926	$6,747,115	$31,115,093	$37,844,472
1927	2,306,026	21,688,554	18,857,204
1928	15,450	17,827,648	10,241,395
1929	841	22,639,647	6,836,497
1930	338	16,228,694	5,555,743

The figures for 1926 clearly indicate that Canada had a valuable market for these products. It is a matter of record that our butter, cheese, bacon and hams had become popular with the consuming public of Britain. Exhibits of these commodities at the British Empire Exhibition in 1924 were a revelation to many British importers of foodstuffs. We had the market, therefore, but failed to keep up continuous supplies. The result has been more sales to the United Kingdom by Denmark, Sweden and Holland. If it is going to be increasingly difficult for the farmers of Canada to dispose of their field crops, other obvious strings to their bow are butter, cheese, bacon and hams.

SHOULD RECEIVE MORE

ALTHOUGH THERE IS NO DEFINITE information on the subject, it is intimated in City Hall circles that Victoria's proportion of the grant of $500,000 to be made to municipalities and school districts out of the $2,500,000 the proposed one per cent tax is expected to yield to the province, will be around $30,000. Alderman Worthington thinks this proportion is too small, especially in view of the heavy exemptions from taxation on provincial government property in this city.

Alderman Worthington's point is well taken. The proportion which it is estimated Victoria will receive is too small, even apart from the large loss of revenue the city suffers from the exemptions on government property within the municipality. The burden of the proposed new taxation will fall mainly upon the cities, since it is intended to exempt farmers, and Victoria's contribution to the $2,500,000 the minister says he expects to raise would be several hundreds of thousands.

There is another sound reason why $30,000 would be altogether inadequate. We have good cause to believe that the government expects the one per cent tax to yield much more than $2,500,000. In some quarters it is expected to bring double that amount to the provincial treasury. In that case the grant of $500,000 would be a drop in the bucket in the light of the certainty that probably three-fourths of this large sum would be obtained from Victoria, Vancouver and the other important municipalities on the lower mainland and Vancouver Island. To this larger total Victoria probably would contribute the greater part of a million. The municipalities certainly should insist upon a more adequate grant all round.

A NEW ESTIMATE

ESTIMATES OF THE COST OF THE Great War in human lives, treasure, retarded progress, and plain dollars and cents have been presented to the world by eminent economists and statisticians. Even the most simple mind can understand most of them, though some of them may savor of a study in the higher mathematics.

Now comes a German mathematician with a new illustration of the consequences of the conflict. He is working in the interests of peace, and he tells us that in more than four years of war 11,000,000 found death—one for every thirteen times the clock ticked. More than 19,000,000 were mutilated—just enough to populate Spain if it were suddenly wiped out. With the war costs—this authority puts them at $500,000,000,000—he says it would have been possible to present every family in the United States, Canada, Australia, Great Britain, France, Belgium, Germany and Russia with a $2,500 house standing in a five-acre plot and containing $1,250 worth of furniture, besides providing each family with 20,000 families with a hospital, university, and schools, including the salaries of teachers, nurses, doctors and professors.

Then he comes to the little crosses which mark the last resting place of those who met death. He estimates that if these were placed side by side they would stretch from Paris, through Europe and Asia right to Vladivostok.

and the last would be washed by the Sea of Japan.

The burden of sacrifices for war's necessities has, perhaps, never been more graphically stated, says The Manchester Guardian commenting upon this German statistician's computation, but the calculations are so elaborate that no one has ventured to check or challenge them.

WAS IT FROM B.C.?

CANADIAN NEWSPAPERS THE other day published the following dispatch from Indianapolis:

Betrayed by leaking bottles, 14,004 safe and sound bottles of the "real stuff" came to Indianapolis as prisoners of the federal government.

The liquor, valued at $70,470, and described by federal prohibition agents as genuine "bottled-in-bond" was seized at Evansville, in a freight car labelled "lumber." It was said the liquor had been sent from a distillery in Vancouver, B.C., and was bound in a roundabout way for Chicago, Ill.

About half the freight car was filled with two-by-fours and other lumber, but the remainder was packed with 1,182 burlap sacks, each containing twelve pints. Authorities were attracted to the car when the "lumber" was found leaking.

The "leaking lumber" may or may not have originated in British Columbia. But it would be interesting to learn where there are stocks of liquor in this province from which supplies may be drawn to satisfy—at fancy prices—thirsty customers on the other side of the international boundary.

Is it possible that some of the stocks that had to be withdrawn from the export warehouses before the closing date last June, after the duty had been paid, were cached elsewhere in the province, mainly, of course, in or near Vancouver?

Perhaps the members of the new Liquor Board were surprised at the dispatch we have quoted, if they read it.

THAT UNIVERSAL TAX

IN THE CORRESPONDENCE columns of a mainland contemporary a Vancouver citizen asks how anybody can reasonably call the Talmie government's one-cent universal tax either fair or equitable. He proceeds to show that on the basis of the proposed charge this year's levy on an income of $2,500, in the case of a married man, will represent an increase of approximately 555 per cent, on $5,000 ninety-two per cent, on $10,000 twenty-nine per cent, and on incomes of more than $20,000, fourteen per cent. In other words, the larger the income the smaller is the percentage of the increase to be paid.

It is all very well to argue, as this correspondent observes, that a man earning thirty dollars a week will receive "only" thirty cents less. Yet it has to be remembered that thirty cents a week is $15.60 a year, an unimportant amount probably to some people, but to others, however, quite a different matter. It can not be compared, for instance, with the tax of $500 which a man earning $50,000 a year would have to pay, or with the charge of $200 on an income of $20,000 a year, even with fifty dollars on an annual income of $5,000. The writer of the letter referred to then argues:

It is to be supposed that the graduated scale of tax hitherto in force was originally regarded, and has since been countenanced as fair and equitable, or at least as fair and equitable a scheme as has been considered possible to devise. If this be so, can it be fair and equitable to levy any substantial additional impost on other than a substantially graduated scale? Would it not be more in keeping with justice and equity to make such additional tax, say, one-quarter, one-half and three-quarters of one per cent, and one per cent (or more) according to the size of the relative income?

Taxation in Great Britain has been called virtual confiscation. In the case of large incomes the description is not as wide of the mark as it might seem. But the income of a married man up to $1,350 a year is still exempt. He is protected under the system which imposes a tax upon those best able to pay it. The Jones universal tax is the other way about.

RUSSIAN MOBILIZATION

CONTROL OF BROADCASTING
The Ottawa Citizen

There is more at stake in this issue before the Supreme Court of Canada than is to be seen at first glance. The court is being asked to determine the respective rights of the Dominion and provincial authorities to administer radio transmission. In other countries, where national leaders have realized the necessity of protecting national interests, radio broadcasting has been taken out of private hands. The possibilities of influencing the life of the nation in the years ahead are seen to be too great to allow this new instrument to pass under the control of private interests.

British national independence has been long established, but the British view is that national control of broadcasting is vital. After due inquiry six years ago, the government took over the British system to be administered as a national service. The last Conservative government under Mr. Baldwin, which included statements of vision like the late Lord Balfour, took this step—appointing the British Broadcasting Corporation by royal charter. Opponents in Canada have given up much misleading propaganda against the B.B.C. There is no remote likelihood of the British nation yielding up the control of radio broadcasting to any private interest.

Friendship is the marriage of the soul.—Voltaire.

Across The Bay

We continue to pry open the Jones budget to see what makes it work—but we fail to agree of course—While Mr. Beatty pronounces it good—Mr. Pearson finds it full of strange devices—and Dr. McNaughton considers it inevitable.

By H. B. W.

WEDNESDAY WAS devoted in this Legislature almost exclusively to the great search for the real truth about the Jones budget. But alas, the further we go in this search, and we have gone almost a week now, the further the real truth seems to be away. It is becoming clear instead that we shall never find the truth about the Jones budget—that is, the truth which we all agree upon. The Jones budget evidently is going through with grave disagreement as to its meaning, with one side confident that it is the finest budget in history and with the other still more confident that it is the worst.

THE JONES budget is going through, that way, as all budgets have gone through, and we are surprised. But evidently it is not going through for a little while yet. Mr. Manson adjourned Wednesday's debate, and this means the air will be electrical on Thursday. And there is Mr. Maitland yet to come in a trailing cloud of glory, wit and rectitude, and who knows what else after him?

WEDNESDAY'S THREE speeches were clear, fair and sane, and they were well illustrated an ancient principle of government among British people—a principle long ago discovered and well understood in the Mother of Parliaments, namely, that there is nothing so popular as to advocate economy in the abstract, and nothing so ruinous as to advocate the curtailment of any specific expenditure. Wednesday's three speeches, while all urging economy in general, nevertheless recommended substantial new expenditures in particular. That is why cabinet ministers age so much more rapidly than other men.

MR. BEATTY, of Victoria, opened the day with a short, breezy speech. Mr. Beatty speaks in the crisp style of luncheon clubs, where he learned to speak, and when he is finished he stops, which is a rare and splendid virtue. Perhaps from the same source he has derived an enthusiasm about things as they are, which is very cheering. This enthusiasm has extended, since Mr. Beatty entered politics a few years ago, to all departments of the Talmie government. For the Talmie government Mr. Beatty had many kind and sound things to say. He said that it took a government three years to make its mark on provincial affairs and the Talmie government had succeeded in doing so. When Mr. Manson said it was not a mark but a blot, Mr. Beatty retorted that not one blot of dishonesty had ever disgraced the Talmie government.

AS FOR THE budget, Mr. Beatty became sceptical as he contemplated the opposition's attack on it. The opposition, Mr. Beatty feared, had got into the habit, while in office, of tossing about millions recklessly and was still doing so, in an abstract, argumentative fashion, now that it was out. Mr. Pattullo said that the opposition's handling of millions in argument might be as reckless as the government's handling of millions in fact, but it was rather less expensive. To which Mr. Beatty replied that Mr. Pattullo, like the noted radio entertainer, Mr. Andrew Brown, was intoxicated by the exuberance of his own verbosity. But Mr. Pattullo, with a knowledge of the history of his party proper in a Liberal leader, was able to correct Mr. Beatty by pointing out that this notable saving had originated not with Mr. Andrew Brown, but with Mr. Gladstone.

THE TROUBLE with the government, Mr. Beatty pursued, was that it seemed to lack Mr. Pattullo's confidence in its own virtue. While Mr. Pattullo was not afraid to tell the public constantly and every day of Mr. Pattullo's rectitude, the Talmie government was too modest to do anything of the sort. This, to Mr. Beatty's practical mind, was a false sense of modesty and, besides, very poor politics. He said that the real facts of the new one per cent income tax, said Mr. Beatty, the tax would be popular. In his own circle, he said, the tax was already understood and popular, which caused the irreverent opposition to wonder in what kind of a circle Mr. Beatty moves.

MR. PEARSON, of Nanaimo, who followed, couldn't understand it at all. He had bushels of figures to show that if the government told the public the real facts about the new taxes and about finances generally, the government very likely would be hung by the neck from a lamp-post by some circle of intellectuals more than Mr. Beatty. Looking over the budget, in his rapid-fire, nervous and deadly earnest fashion, Mr. Pearson found much to interest him. Also, he found much to interest the House, for Mr. Pearson has become one of its most interesting speakers. So far as he could see, the Jones budget was a funny old scheme, by only one note of gladness. This was the evident confidence of Mr. Jones that the new finance minister would save the country even from his own government. Mr. Pearson seemed to wish in vain that he could share Mr. Jones's confidence in himself.

COMING TO the public debt, Mr. Pearson discovered to his bewilderment that its total varied from day to day and from hour to hour, according to the politics of the man discussing it. His own figures, however, were absolutely correct, Mr. Pearson said, and they were rather disagreeable. Mr. Shelly sought to put him right about this and pointed out that when he took over the finance department he found the treasury with only $100,000 in it and $10,000,000 owing to the bank. Mr. Shelly sought to question Mr. Pearson further to sound out his knowledge of these things, but the discussion did not prove illuminating. An incorrigible wit, who occupies a high place in Conservative politics but has a weakness for sending humorous notes to his friends in the House, said Mr. Pearson seemed to know almost as little about his answers as Mr. Shelly did about his questions. But this, of course, was a little family joke and not intended for publication.

MR. PEARSON is by way of being an original and, some feel, a daring thinker. He doesn't limit his attacks to the Talmie government. He boldly assaults our whole economic system. When Col. Spencer asked him what he suggested as a substitute, Mr. Pearson threatened to explain his subject for several hours, until long after dinner time. The Conservatives did not accept the invitation, and asked no more. For which the House was grateful. It would rather be without Mr. Pearson's explanation than without its dinner. Mr. Pearson contented himself with saying that by Conservatives he was regarded as too radical; by radicals too conservative, while a newspaper in his home town of Nanaimo said he was a hopeless reactionary. Not knowing, therefore, where he stood, Mr. Pearson sat down, after the excellent speech which the House expects of him.

THE THIRD speaker, who also is held in high esteem on both sides, was Dr. McNaughton, the businesslike member for Comox. Dr. McNaughton speaks rapidly, in a brisk professional style, with a respect for words and a respect for facts also. Not for him the abstract theories of government nor the larger problems of the human spirit. He stuck to simpler things, like the needs of his riding, new roads and ferry services. And, like Mr. Pearson, he objected to unwise economy like too great a curtailment of government grants to agricultural fairs.

THE New income tax appeared to Dr. McNaughton as a simple matter of business. The tax, he said, was called inappropriate, but he asked bluntly, when was any tax appropriate? And when was bad times, the cause of the tax, opportune? Unhappily, he said, the Talmie government couldn't govern such things, but it was doing what it could. It was paying out money under trying circumstances. Dr. McNaughton strove valiantly to do his best for his party.

AFTER THAT we went to minor bills and the day ended with Mr. Maitland trying to explain something about the registration of infant births to Mr. Pattullo, and saying that while he could guarantee to explain, he could not guarantee that Mr. Pattullo would understand. Which, being interpreted from the language of the House, probably meant that Mr. Pattullo understood the bill in question better than Mr. Maitland could wish.

CARPENTERS' WAGES

To the Editor:—As a subscriber to your paper may I trespass on your kindness. Thank you. As a carpenter who has suffered from their ignorance I would like to right the misconception of a great number of people who consider we are overpaid. To begin with, let us suppose (a quite erroneous supposition) that we are a little better paid than unskilled men. Do those who have never subjected themselves to the mental discipline necessary to learn a trade, think they should receive the same pay as one who has gone through the mill? To those who have gone through the mill of apprenticeship, dirty work, and bitter toil, to receive the same pay as the little reprimands, to give them a nice name, know what I mean when I say go through the mill. However, let me tell the world that the carpenter is not a learning a trade, that they are just as well as, or perhaps better off, than the poor fool who learns too late that the mill is a hard one to go through. In the so-called good times due to plastering, delay between contracts, and no contracts at all, to say nothing of bad weather, he barely makes laborer's wages. Then he must buy tools and keep them sharp, which costs money. Ask a carpenter, he knows. In the poor times, God help the poor carpenter. In conclusion, why do hard-boiled, unsentimental contractors pay these wages when there are so many men to be had for half the money? Because they know from long and bitter experience that a good carpenter will do not twice, but four or five times the much more apt and half the time out of work. In the so-called good times due to plastering, delay between contracts, and no contracts at all, to say nothing of bad weather, he barely makes laborer's wages. Then he must buy tools and keep them sharp, which costs money. Ask a carpenter, he knows. In the poor times, God help the poor carpenter.

SOCIALISM FEELS THE PINCH

To the Editor:—Concerning the discussion on civil servants' salaries in British Columbia it is interesting to note that the Socialist government in Britain has just lopped $15,000,000 off the wages of civil servants. The basic wage of a civil servant in Britain is $750 per week, and has been for years. When war broke out, and the cost of living rose, a bonus was added to cover the increased cost of living. This bonus has not been touched since the Socialist government came into office (it was pledged to that) and was around $4.90 on the first of this month. Thus the basic wage with bonus was around $124.90 and is now cut to $118.60. With regard to this wage cut, it is noteworthy that a Socialist government is exactly the same as the so-called capitalist government, since salaries of $2,500 per year and upwards are untouched. The $15,000,000 is collected entirely from the low-paid class.

A dispatch says the Socialist Chancellor of the Exchequer is indisposed and confined to his bed. Perhaps this is as it should be for a good many civil servants must also be running quite a temperature.

If the Trades Union Bill had not been thrown out, labor officials could have ordered all the civil servants out on strike and in sympathy, all the railway workers, transport workers, miners and so on. Ramsay MacDonald was pledged to restore these rights as regards sympathetic strikes. Actually, he got so afraid of the bill and his promise to his supporters, that he is reported to have handed the bill to Lloyd George on a certain dark and stormy night and begged him to take it upstairs (the Lords) and "do it dirty throat." And that's just what David did. The right to strike is not abrogated. In fact, there have been 900 strikes since the bill was made law in 1926, but no sympathetic strikes. The 15,000,000 saved would build 8,000 houses, but Margaret has been doing worse than that. The bill was made law in 1926, but no sympathetic strikes. NO BORROWING

To the Editor:—The council will stand watching just now; their proposal to borrow money for the outer ward is a very bad precedent. The only thing that should be done with borrowed money is permanent improvements that can pay their interest. The necessary money for meeting the expenses of unemployment should be obtained by economies in other directions. That may mean a harder life, but it also means we should do without all the things of an unimportant nature that the council would like to do. Some of these things can wait for better times. Others can be done without altogether with no loss.

The council from the commencement of the year has been eager to embark upon a spending programme in their efforts to shove our debt to the unemployed and go on with a lot of projects that won't matter if they are left over.

There is an amount of cunning displayed in the selection of the things to be paid for now. The money matters are to be used to the hand and the necessary ones (the unemployed) are to be borrowed for. This is the work of estate financiers, but it is possible to use the money in a more useful way. There is no knowing when the state of unemployment will end. It is quite a long while now since the experts told us we were on the verge of a great prosperity; likewise that good times were "just around the corner." The truth is all those quacks knew nothing about the state of the city they must bear. We cannot help it but there is no use in bringing ruin to our poorer ratepayers and counting it. If the council and school board will just oblige by cutting out their unnecessary expenditures they can get along. They will have to economize in all directions, mayors' salary, recently boosted, aldermen's salary, a good cut in the staff and a good reduction in salaries, full permission to all concerned to leave at once if they can better themselves.

The mill rate is too high to stand any boosting under present conditions. To try it we'll succeed in cleaning up our poorer ratepayers and warning wealthy people to keep away. The tax assessor is an accused thing and the city that uses it doesn't serve to thrive, yet this is the final stage of any higher taxes. In view of our difficulties it looks very bad to see our mayor and aldermen unwilling to accept a reduction of their salaries, particularly as these officers are often considered honorary.

It will not do to be scared by the proverb about being penny wise and pound foolish. There is another proverb that bids us take care of the pence, look after the shillings, and the pounds will take care of themselves. This is what we are trying to do, in face of opposition from those who should help.

MARCH 12, 1906
(From The Times Files)

Since the announcement in The Times some days ago of the determination of the Capital Canning Company to construct a cannery at the outer end of the city, the public has followed the progress. The buildings are already assuming shape and Contractor McArthur states that they will be complete and ready for the machinery early next month. It is understood that the plant is already on its way from the manufacturers, and will be here in time to allow the engineers to proceed with the work of the undertaking immediately the carpentering is finished.

The Victoria Theatre was well filled last evening the attraction being "All the Comforts of Home," presented by a company of local amateurs. The performance was in aid of the funds of the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

The balance of the pressed brick required to complete the new C.P.R. hotel has arrived from Seattle and Messrs. Gribble and Skene, the contractors, are very much pleased at the progress that has been made. They now have a force of thirty men excavating sandstone at their quarries on Haddington Island.

Dr. C. J. Fagan, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, returned Sunday night from New Westminster where he has been investigating the causes of the present typhoid fever epidemic.

During School Years

SCHOOL children should have their eyes periodically examined to insure that their eyes are fit.

Eyesight is often overtaxed and permanently impaired during these formative years.

Better to wear glasses now and avoid future trouble; or if glasses are not required, an examination will establish the fact, and our advice as to the care of your children's eyes is gladly given.

At this time of year there is much serious illness and more not so serious. In our neck of the woods we haven't seen the sun for nearly two weeks and to tell the truth, I think I'll have to be introduced to him all over again.

B.C. Daughters Give Picture To Oaklands School

At a gathering of the senior classes of the Oaklands School yesterday afternoon, March 11, Miss Etta Noel, on behalf of the Native Daughters of B.C., Post No. 3, presented a picture of Governor Blanshard to the school.

Robert McInnis, principal, received the picture, and on behalf of the staff and pupils of the Oaklands School thanked the Native Daughters for the much-appreciated gift. Mrs. H. A. Beckwith gave a very interesting address on the arrival here of Governor Blanshard on March 11, 1860. The programme was brought to a close by a selection from the school orchestra.

PUBLIC TO SEE MISSION SHIP

Columbia to Be Open For Inspection To Aid Funds For Work

The Columbia Coast Mission has appealed to the Anglican Young People's Association of Victoria and district to raise funds for the work it is carrying out in the 10,000 square miles under its jurisdiction at the northern end of Vancouver Island and adjacent mainland and islands, and the A.Y.P.A. has undertaken to get behind Rev. J. Antle, superintendent of this mission, in the great service he is rendering through this means, to the logging camps and isolated settlements in the district mentioned.

The Ms. Columbia, the flagship of the C.C.M. fleet, is fitted up with the most up-to-date surgical equipment and a hospital ward, as well as a very modern wireless telephone outfit, which picks up the calls for help, thus enabling this very valuable asset to humanity to reach the scene of many an accident, in the shortest possible time. In order that the people of Victoria may become more conversant with this unique craft, Mr. Antle is bringing the Columbia to Victoria next Saturday for a five-day stay. During that time, she will be berthed at the C.P.R. wharf, and anyone holding a ticket of admission will have the opportunity of inspecting the ship, under the supervision of one of the officers. Tickets for admission can be obtained from any member of the Anglican Young People's Association or at the boat.

The Sir Matthew Bailey Begbie Chapter of the I.O.D.E. who are supporting Mr. Antle more especially in connection with the Pender Harbor Hospital, one of the three hospitals run by the Columbia Coast Mission, are also co-operating with the A.Y.P.A. in helping to raise funds, by serving a tea on board the Columbia Wednesday, March 18, on which date the boat will be closed to inspection by the general public between the hours of 12 noon and 6 p.m. to enable the Sir Matthew Bailey Chapter to serve tea.

The following is the programme for the Columbia while here: Saturday, March 14—Columbia arrives at 1 p.m. and will be open for inspection by ticket holders from 2 to 9 p.m. Afternoon tea will be served on board by girls of the A.Y.P.A. under the direction of Mrs. S. C. Hawkins and Miss I. Dallin during the afternoon.

Sunday, March 15—Rev. J. Antle will preach at the morning service in St. John's Church. Columbia will be open to inspection by ticket holders from 1 to 6 p.m.

Monday, March 16—Columbia open to inspection by ticket holders from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Tuesday, March 17—Columbia open to inspection by ticket holders during the same hours as Monday.

Wednesday, March 18—Columbia open to inspection by ticket holders from 9 a.m. to 12 noon only. The Sir Matthew Bailey Begbie Chapter of the I.O.D.E. will serve tea on board from 3 to 6 p.m.

On Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, commencing at 8 o'clock, Rev. J. Antle will give lectures illustrated with moving pictures portraying the work of the Columbia Coast Mission at the Memorial Hall, Vancouver Street. When those wishing to support this great work will have an opportunity of doing so, as there will be a silver collection taken up on both evenings.

TRAGIC END TO BRITISH STAR

Former Actress Dies in London Prison of Chronic Alcoholism

London, March 12.—Tragedy of a famous British actress and beauty of Victorian days was revealed yesterday at an inquest on the death of Mrs. Alice Porter, the former Alma Stanley, who for thirty years played on the stages of London and New York. She collapsed Sunday from bronchitis after being taken to the hospital of Holloway Prison on a charge of intoxication. At the inquest she was described as a widow, and stage records set her age at seventy-six, although the prison governor said she would not admit more than fifty-six. The coroner testified death was accelerated by chronic alcoholism; but the jury returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

IS BEWILDERED BY HOSPITALITY

Tiny Norwegian Boy Does Not Understand Canadian Invitation to Dinner

Toronto, March 11.—Karl Johann Solberg, seven-year-old youth, had just arrived in Toronto on his way from Norway to Parker's, and kindly railway officials, anxious to be hospitable, decided to offer him dinner. Conventional symbols to depict hunger were pointing to young Karl. With good-natured tolerance, he watched railway men, reporters, transients, and others make strange gestures in their efforts to convey the invitation to him. No light of understanding dawned upon his face, though he favored the inquirers with smiles.

In despair an interpreter was sought, and he arrived, an hour later, to tell the officials after a colloquy with Karl that the young traveler was ready for something to eat, and was grateful of the care taken of him.

Karl got his dinner all right. The youngster who is traveling alone, proceeded west last night.

Chiffons In Dainty Colors Add Gay Note To Spring Song Of Fashion

By JOAN SAVOY

Printed chiffons have such ineffable freshness and daintiness about them, it is no wonder that spring makes every one of us feel we just must have at least one such dress.

You will find the new chiffons delicately colorful, usually featuring big figures in a neat and lady-like manner. Lots of them use three or four tones together, fresh greens, yellows, blues, pinks. There seems to be a special run on blues—light but not too delicate blues that look grand on blondes.

Two problems of the new chiffon afternoon or evening gown seem to be what to do about covering the gown and how to distribute fullness so that it swirls gracefully around the feet and yet lets you look even slimmer than you actually are.

Most of the new chiffons solve the sleeve problem either by having short sleeves made in the gown or by having little matching boleros or capes or short coats of the same chiffon.

Two lovely new printed chiffons show variety in style and design and color. A modernistic idea of what flower looks like to a contemporary artist uses shades of gray, white and black on a dark gray background and makes an elegant gown for spring and summer.

The sleeves have shirred caps to them, with flaring puffs below, and the same fitted idea makes use of accordion pleating for the entire skirt, flaring from the knees. There is a little aquarish cape wrap, with shirring across the back shoulders, that matches.

(Right) Chrysanthemums, in varied autumn tones against a dark, rich background, make the pattern of the other chiffon gown. The method of distributing fullness is quite different, this gown being fitted to hips and a circular skirt added. There is a fitted necktie, also, and from this a cape falls that covers the arms and swings below the waistline in back.

Native Daughters.—At the regular business meeting of the Native Daughters of B.C., Post No. 3, held in the New Thought Hall on Wednesday evening, March 11, the business session was devoted to the presentation of the new members and the presentation of the new members.

LADY WILKINS TO STAY HOME

Philadelphia, Pa., March 12.—Lady Wilkins will not accompany her explorer husband, Sir Hubert Wilkins, on his submarine trip to the North Pole this spring.

The Arctic and Antarctic veteran made that clear yesterday evening at the annual dinner of the Geographical Society of Philadelphia, at which he received the Elisha Kent Kane Medal, highest honor in the gift of the society and which is awarded for the outstanding geographical research each year.

Sir Hubert said Lady Wilkins would accompany him to Norway, "but that is as far as she will go."

"It is the duty of the leader of any expedition," he said, "to look after the welfare of every member. He is not expected to look after the welfare of any particular one. That leaves wives out."

Sir Hubert predicted success for the polar expedition, to be made on the surface of the sea and under icebergs. "We are not definitely sure we can get through," he said, "although we believe we shall. However, if we don't we know some one else will. We believe we should succeed because of the co-operation which has been given us on all sides, particularly from the United States, which rented us the submarine we are to use at $1 a year."

Victoria West School Fancy Dress Success

A successful fancy dress party was held in the auditorium of the Victoria West school under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association, Friday.

The auditorium was packed with parents and pupils. About 200 children in costumes of various hues and styles added much color to the scene.

The final for the school year championship was held, the winner being chosen by the applause of the audience. The boys finished in this order: First, Trevor Lewis; second, Herbert Shaw; third, Rod McMillan. Each of the contestants showed considerable skill in this new game.

A silver cup, awarded anonymously for the best costume on display, was won by Leslie Holding, aged seven. This award was made on the verdict of the audience, who plainly showed their approval of the originality, effectiveness and humor of the little lad's costume.

During the evening a committee under the direction of Mrs. Hay sold refreshments, of which ice cream seemed most popular.

The Doctor ordered EAGLE BRAND!

DESTINY again hung on his decision: As a rural physician he had found practical results with Eagle Brand. Twenty years after, as a great city specialist he again proved Eagle Brand a safe and dependable food for babies who could not be nursed.

So the doctor recommended Eagle Brand for Baby George—as the foundation for a rugged body—as the nearest approach to nature's formula he could devise.

When a like decision rests with you—do not experiment—Next to nursing, Eagle Brand may be the most suitable food for your baby. Send your name and address and we will gladly mail you authoritative literature on child welfare.

THE PREPARATION OF EGGS

Success in egg cooking depends on slow cooking at low oven heat. Because intense heat makes egg white tough and difficult to digest, a temperature between 250 and 300 degrees F. is recommended for oven cooking and a temperature below boiling for cooking in water. This principle holds true for the simplest ways of preparing eggs, such as baking or soft cooking, as well as the more elaborate dishes.

EGG SOUFFLE. Three tablespoon butter, three tablespoon flour, one cup milk, four eggs, one-half teaspoon salt. Cream the butter and flour, and add to the hot milk. Cook in double boiler five minutes, and add yolks of eggs beaten until thick and lemon-colored. Remove from fire, add seasonings, and fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Turn into a buttered dish, or principle individual moulds, set in pan of hot water, and bake in a slow oven until firm. For two-thirds cup grated Canadian cheese to the white sauce before folding the egg whites into the mixture.

for whiter washes

"Fine for dishes, too," says Mrs. M. Mangels.

"I tried many soaps in my washer before I came to Rinso. There's nothing like it for speed! The clothes come so bright and snowy, they look like new. And Rinso is so economical; a little goes a lot of thick, lasting suds. I like it for dishes, too—it loosens grease in a flash. Later I've been using Rinso for all cleaning, too; it's such a wonderful help."

MRS. M. MANGELS

Rinso's rich suds loosen dirt like magic. Clothes soak so white and clean, even boiling isn't needed.

Rinso is safe. And economical, because it's granulated, compact. One cupful gives twice as much suds as one cupful of lightweight, puffed-up soap.

Great either in tub or machine; the makers of 38 famous washers recommend it. Get the BIG package. You'll like Rinso for dishes—and for all cleaning, too.

World Champion Athletics Show Signs of Wear and Tear

THE SPOR'S MIRROR

Helene Madison Competes While Suffering From 'Flu'
Star Amateur Athletes Are Too Often Badly Imposed Upon
Money Is Flowing Plenty Freely In Horse Racing These Days
Laverne Fator May Stage Comeback Riding for Col. Bradley

AFTER reading the account of a gala staged in Seattle on Tuesday evening in which Helene Madison, beyond doubt one of the greatest women swimmers the world has ever seen, competed, although she was still suffering from the effects of a bad attack of influenza, we are wondering whether or not such competitive sport is advisable. Helene is still a youngster, being only eighteen years of age, and as a result is not yet fully developed. It is going to take part in galas in poor physical condition, she may soon lose her edge. Of course Miss Madison was given great credit for helping to shatter a United States record even although she was shivering on the edge of the tank before plunging into the water.

Was this a case of where an amateur athlete was imposed upon? If an amateur rises to the challenge in a special line of athletic endeavor, their services are in great demand for meets in various parts of the country. These sponsors of the shows fully realize the fact that if one of these world stars can be persuaded to appear, the crowds will flock through the turnstiles. In other words the star athlete "makes" the show. If these athletes are not well or are suffering from an injury, rather than disappoint the sponsors of the meet, they go through with their performance, often at the danger of serious injury to themselves. More than one athletic star has been "burnt out" by too much competition.

With the professional athlete it is a different story. If he is not feeling up to the scratch or suffers an injury, in most cases he takes a rest, realizing that his health is his livelihood.

Money is certainly flowing freely in horse racing these days. It takes only a few of the larger stakes in the United States to total $1,000,000 in gross value. The Agua Caliente Handicap on March 22 is going to reward the winner with $99,000 to present of approximately $100,000, an amount which will displace the Belmont Futurity as the world's richest race. San Antonio, Tex., is expected to have the richest race, the Belmont event last year, topped by $12,000 the amount paid the owners of Victorian, for his victory in the Agua Caliente feature a year ago.

If Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Sun Beau should poke his nose under the wire ahead of the field at the Mexican track this month, that $100,000 or so, will elevate him to the top of the list of the world's greatest money winning horses. Last year Gallant Fox set the turf world ablaze by rising to the top of the heap, after a great series of victories under the piloting of the clever Earl Sande.

While writing about horse racing it is interesting to note that Laverne Fator, one of the greatest jockeys the North American turf has ever known, has signed a contract to ride the horses of Col. E. R. Bradley. Last year Fator seemed to be far off form, but that might have been the horses he rode. Riding for the Rancocas Stable was not the same easy job following the death of trainer Sam Hildreth.

Bidding for Bradley, Fator may return to the form that earned him $35,000 a year guiding the horses of Harry F. Sinclair around the rail. Fator is now thirty-three years of age. He seemed to ride on the backs of cow ponies. Fator went to the Rancocas Stable in 1916 and then came back quickly. For ten years his name was a byword on New York tracks. Now he has a chance to establish his status. Is he on the way out, or can he come back?

Did you know that Jack Curley has an idea he can draw 60,000 people to an outdoor wrestling party this summer in New York? He intends to pair the two world champions, London and George. Gotch and Hackenschmidt set record when 33,000 people saw them wrestle for the title in White Sox Park, Chicago, many years ago. They're going crazy in the Orient, reports Bobby Cruikshank, who recently concluded a playing tour of Japan and China with Bill Mehlhorn. Wee Bobby says golfers from the far east will be coming over here for our tournaments before long. Some of the Oriental courses are very impressive, reports the Scot.

Oarsmen to Hold Meeting at Gorge To-morrow Night

Plans for the 1931 rowing season will be discussed at a meeting of the oarsmen's group of the J.B.A. at the club quarters to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. The rowing committee will be elected and tentative arrangements for various meets will be brought under consideration. Dan O'Sullivan, veteran coach, will preside at the gathering to which all members and any young men interested in rowing are invited.

Six Main Reasons For Team's Rule Are Still Sound

Connie Mack, Al Simmons, Jimmy Foxx, Mickey Cochrane, Bob Grove and George Earnshaw Ready to Steamroller Club to Third Successive American League Pennant; Mack Intends to Start Same Team That Won Championship Last Season; Team Is Well Fortified With Reserves.

Port Myers, Fla., March 12.—Age has begun to creep into the joints of the Philadelphia Athletics. The machine that has steamrollered its major league opposition for two straight seasons shows some signs of wear and tear, but the six main reasons for the rulership of the Philadelphians remain sound in body and spirit.

These reasons are the sixty-eight-year-old but exceedingly alert pilot, Connie Mack; Al Simmons, Harry Simmons, probably the greatest of present day outfielders; James Foxx, the slogging first baseman; Gordon (Mickey) Cochrane, number one backstop of the major leagues; Robert Moses Grove and George Livingston Earnshaw, the two-man pitching staff.

In the absence of some of these vital cogs, Simmons and Earnshaw, who are training at Hot Springs, Ark., and to relieve some of the others, ambitious youngsters have been cowering in the light blue of the A's. They may as well, for when the race starts next month, Mr. Mack will send out to the umpires the same line-up that finished the 1930 world's series to triumph, except that Grove may be on the mound instead of Earnshaw.

STANDS PAT ON TEAM
 Aged though some of his other athletes may be, Mack's stars retain the spryness of youth. He is content to stand pat for 1931, and make a bid for three successive pennants.

Indeed, there is no reason for him to plan otherwise. Joe Boley's arm has come along slowly in spring training and Max Bishop has been laid up temporarily with a leg bruise, caused by a ball thrown from the outfield.

The veteran keystones pair, however, figure to start, although Dibs Williams at short and Frank Higgins, Texas boy, at third base, have been given plenty of chance to develop. Higgins particularly shows promise, both in the field and at bat.

The infield is well fortified elsewhere in reserve, with Phil Todd, late of the Boston Red Sox, to substitute for Foxx and Eric McNair as understudy for thirty-four, is one of the oldest of the A's in point of major league service. This is his fourteenth season, but Jimmy still dresses, acts, and chatters like a collegian.

"They are working us old fellows pretty hard," Dykes remarked to Bing Miller, the veteran outfielder, "but I guess we still stand the pace. If the old legs don't give out."

Miller, Simmons and George Haas form the outer patrol. They leave little to be desired unless it is more punch on the latter's part.

Behind the bat, Cochrane's probable relief man, on the rare occasions when he is needed, will be John Heving, obtained from the Boston Red Sox on waivers.

WALBERG MAY COME BACK
 George (Swee) Walberg gives every indication of a return to form, in which case Mack's staff may be expanded to "Big Three." Roy Mahaffey, the big right-hander, who came through handsomely in his first big league season, is counted on for a regular turn. Among the rookies, nineteen-year-old Hank McDonald, Pacific Coast product, has shown the stuff to indicate he may stick. Eddie Rommel and Texas Bill Shores will do any odd pitching chores needed, while Grove, as usual, will be asked to step in and save a lot of games he doesn't start.

"Grove likes lots of work," said Mrs. Mack, "probably we can find it for him."

Sarazen and Farrell and MacFarlane and Cox All-square After Forty Holes

Miami, Fla., March 12.—Gene Sarazen and Johnny Farrell fought Willie MacFarlane and Whitby Cox to a forty-hole deadlock in the finals of the $5,000 International four-ball matches yesterday, and officials postponed the match when darkness settled over the Miami Country Club course. An eighteen-hole play-off was scheduled for this afternoon. Twice in the scheduled thirty-six holes Sarazen and Farrell forged two holes into the lead and twice the methodical MacFarlane and the blustering Cox fought back to even terms.

Cox squared the match for the last time on the thirty-fifth, when he sank a birdie three from six feet as the rest took four. They halved the remaining five holes.

A gallery of 2,000, as the battle wore on, overran tournament officials and caused frequent delays in the play on the extra holes.

Henry was held under technical arrest for a coroner's inquest to-day.

OAK BAY WINS GRASS HOCKEY FROM VICTORIA

Suburban High School Girls Score 3 to 1 Win in Mae Tully Shield Series

Eleanor Peden Scores Lone Goal For Victoria High; Next Game on March 25

In the first game of the Mae Tully Shield series for girls' grass hockey, Oak Bay High took the Victoria High eleven into camp in a s'ow match played yesterday afternoon at the Victoria high grounds, coming out on top of a 3 to 1 score. Oak Bay had the better of the play throughout. The second match in the series will be played at the Oak Bay grounds on March 25.

Play was even for the first few minutes of the game but Victoria broke away and stung the Oak Bay goalie with several shots. On a pretty forward rush Pat Young took the ball into Victoria territory and scored easily. After the face-off Oak Bay pressed again and several times came close to scoring. Finally, Eleanor Peden stuck-handled her way from her own goal line right through the Oak Bay forward and defence division to save Victoria from a whitewashing. D. Seale scored again for Oak Bay High just as the half-time whistle blew.

OAK BAY PRESSES
 Oak Bay pressed hotly at the start of the second half. Both teams played ragged hockey for the remainder of the session, with Oak Bay having the advantage over the Victoria aggregation.

J. Groos netted Oak Bay's final score when she best Beth Dilworth with a fast shot in the corner of the net in the dying moments of the frame.

Mona Miller refereed the fixture. The teams were as follows:
 Oak Bay—M. Thorne, M. Mann, N. Hopburn, P. Young, J. Wharton, B. Bashford, D. Seale, P. Swanson, J. Groos and Pat McCann.

Victoria—Beth Dilworth, G. Stewart, I. Waters, A. Brewster, B. Hastings, M. Neworth, C. Peete, E. Peden, E. Cantwell, S. Malcolm and D. Beere.

Ernie Schaaf or Jack Sharkey, for a ten-round bout with Tuffy Griffiths in the stadium's next boxing show, date up to March 27, and will pass up its other date for the month, March 30.

Oaklands Fifteen In Great Rally to Win School Rugby

City School Fifteen Scores 11 to 3 Victory Over Monterey in Semi-finals of Curtis Cup Series Yesterday Afternoon at Oak Bay Park; Willows and Boys' Central Meet in Other Semi-final Friday at Oak Bay Grounds.

With defeat staring them in the face the Oaklands School rugby fifteen rallied desperately in the indication of a return to form, in which case Mack's staff may be expanded to "Big Three." Roy Mahaffey, the big right-hander, who came through handsomely in his first big league season, is counted on for a regular turn. Among the rookies, nineteen-year-old Hank McDonald, Pacific Coast product, has shown the stuff to indicate he may stick. Eddie Rommel and Texas Bill Shores will do any odd pitching chores needed, while Grove, as usual, will be asked to step in and save a lot of games he doesn't start.

Monterey kicked off, booting the ball well down into Oakland territory and forcing a five-yard scrum. Bone advanced the ball to midfield with a nice kick, where it remained for a few moments. Berry, of Oakland, picked up and ran clear to the Monterey goal line before being tackled heavily by Bone. Monterey advanced the ball to the Oakland goal line after several pretty three-quarter runs. Langton blocked Bone's kick and dashed over for the first try. Jones missed the try for extra points. Play now centered around midfield for a few moments, and then Hodgson of Oakland went through for a nice gain, but was pulled down by Greer. Monterey pressed hard for the remainder of the half and several times came within an ace of scoring.

OAKLANDS ATTACK
 Oaklanders kicked off the second half with a rush, smashing their way to the two-yard line, but the Monterey backfield held, forcing the ball through a number of kicks to midfield. Again Oakland came back with Wilkinson carrying the ball on a pretty run. Oakland threatened the Monterey line several times, and finally Hodgson ploughed his way through for Oakland's first score and converted his own try.

Oaklands again pressed hard, and Young went over near the corner for Oakland's second try. Hodgson missed the difficult kick. Play was even for about five minutes with the piskin wavering back and forth between the two twenty-five-yard lines. Oaklanders again started pressing and several times nearly scored, being defeated by tough breaks. In the dying moments of the game Don Chislm smashed his way over the goal line for the final score of the fixture. Hodgson again missed the extra points.

Harry Smith refereed. The teams were as follows:
 Oakland—Bone, Dan Chislm, Don Chislm, Young, Wilkinson, Berry, Hodgson, A. Anderson, W. Anderson, McCoy, Bray, Knowles, Blackstock, Murray and Price.

Strong Team to Represent U. B. C. Against College

Despite Loss of Two Stars, Coach McIlmoyl Will Send Over Good Fifteen to Tackle Local Squad for British Columbia Intermediate Rugby Championship at Royal Athletic Park on Saturday; Nine Former Victorians Trying for Places on Varsity Team; Collegians Reported To Be In Pink for Encounter.

Finishing off their workouts with a final practice this afternoon, Victoria College's flashy band of ruggers, present city champions, and defenders of the provincial title, will be in the pink of condition for their battle with the University of British Columbia second division squad at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday, it was stated at the Craigdarroch institution to-day.

Word received this morning from Vancouver indicates the U.B.C. boys will send over a particularly strong squad, despite the absence of two of their star players, and should be able to give the locals one of the greatest battles of the season.

Coach Gil McIlmoyl, former star five-eighths for the Craigdarroch squad and present mentor for Varsity's second team, seems to think the Collegians should have a slight edge over his team, but is confident the Victorians will have to put up a high standard of rugby to hold his boys.

FINE RECORD
 The Vancouver team has played twelve league games in the second division, winning eleven and tying one, for a total of twenty-three points out of a possible twenty-four.

On the mainland they had swept aside all opposition and captured the Bell-Irving Cup, emblematic of the championship in their section.

They will leave the Terminal City on the 10:30 o'clock boat Saturday morning and will proceed straight to the game.

FORMER VICTORIA PLAYERS
 Nine former Victoria players are trying for places on the squad, it was revealed in the tentative line-up. Derry Tye, ex-University School backfield man, will be playing fullback. Either K. Patrick, a graduate of Victoria College, or G. Henderson will be right wing three-quarter. J. Calland, Brentwood boy, will be on the left wing. W. Grever and R. Stobie, both smart Vancouver lads, are booked for inside three places. Ken Mercer, former University School boy, or R. Hanbury, one of Brentwood College's products, are listed for centre three. W. Hall, Vancouver, will play five-eighths with C. Fogg, another Brentwood graduate lining up as half.

In the scrum, Ray Grant and E. Senkler, one-time stars in the Victoria College pack, and B. McKirrie, Shawinigan Lake, Legault, B.E.S. and other possibilities are B. Brown, R. Burns, H. Pearson, H. Brand and D. Brown.

LOST TWO STARS
 Jack Rutten, one of the mainstays of McIlmoyl's pack, will be retaining the game form due to the production of the Varsity spring play, while Pearson, another good forward, may not be able to make the trip.

To meet these boys, the Collegians will field a team composed of players who have turned in consistently good games throughout the season.

Red McInnes, one of the smartest intermediate fullbacks developed in the city, is counted on to hold down his favorite position. Bob Mabey, Ted Colgate, Archie Miller and "Chuck" Copeland are listed for three. Jimmy Moyle will play five-eighths, Len Bapty stand-off half and Ted Robinson scrum half.

The forwards, who are a calm will make Walton, Crethall, Davidson, Carey, Sprinkling, Wilson, Seivers and Hammerley.

SHOULD WIN
 If the Collegians play their good game, the odds are in their favor. B.C. title; but if they have an off-day their chances will be poor. However, the Victorians usually put up their best game against a good team, and should have plenty of encouragement to play hard against the U.B.C. fifteen.

The game will be the second on a double-header card. In the curtain raiser, the Canadian Scottish and J.B. A.A. will clash for the city senior championship at 2:30 o'clock.

Four Perfect Hands Are Seen in Bridge Game at Vancouver

Vancouver, March 12.—Four perfect hands in a bridge game were dealt in a game at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas E. Milne, West Twenty-fourth Street, yesterday evening. Mrs. Milne, the dealer, opened with a bid of seven hearts when she found that all thirteen of the suit had fallen to her lot. Dr. R. D. Shortreed, on her left, had thirteen diamonds, but could do nothing with them, and his wife, who was Mrs. Milne's partner, had thirteen clubs. Milne held all the spades and promptly bid seven spades to gather in all the points for a grand slam and rubber.

The cards were made, cut and dealt in the usual manner and were not "fixed" in any way.

Adanacs Defeated By One Point In Second Hoop Final

New Westminster, March 12.—New Westminster Adanacs, 1930 Dominion basketball champions, suffered their second straight defeat at the hands of the University of British Columbia quintette in the Vancouver and District League finals here yesterday evening. The score was 13 to 12 for the students, who now need only one more victory to eliminate the defending titleholders from the 1931 series for Canadian honors. The series is best three out of five games.

FRENCHMEN AND MAROONS WILL CLASH

Bitter Intercity Rivals in the N.H.L. in Final Schedule Meeting To-night

Struggle For Third Play-off Position in League Hinges on Result

Toronto, March 12.—Double inter-city hangs on the final battle of the National Hockey League season between the two Montreal teams, the Canadiens and Maroons, to-night.

This game, headliner of the four on schedule, not only is expected to bring the usual stirring battle between the neighboring enemies, but the decision in the struggle between the Maroons and the New York Americans for third place in the Canadian division may depend on it.

So far the Canadiens have beaten the Maroons three times and tied the other two games, but with everything settled, the Maroons may win to-night. If they do, their chances of finishing third will be materially improved. They will remain at least a point ahead of their rivals and will gain the almost unbeatable margin of three points if the Americans should lose to the Ottawa Senators, who have turned that trick twice in five attempts.

BRUINS MEET HAWKS
 Close behind these games in interest, on to-night's schedule comes the final meeting of the regular season between the Boston Bruins, who have clinched first place in the American division, and the second place Chicago Black Hawks, the only team to have the edge on Boston in the season's play so far.

In the fourth game Detroit should have little trouble beating Philadelphia and keeping its mathematical chance of finishing third in the American section, although the Quakers upset the motor city team the last time they met.

"KING" CLANCY DYNAMIC STAR OF ICE SPORT

Brilliant Defence Player of Toronto Leafs Famed For Fearlessness and Spirit Has Revived Fighting Spirit Among Leafs; Only Bachelor on All-star Team

Toronto, Ont., March 12.—Hockey is the game of games in the estimation of Frank "King" Clancy, brilliant defence star of Toronto Maple Leafs, who received twenty-first team votes and eight second team votes by thirty-seven sports editors in National Hockey League cities for all-star honors. His partner on the mythical rear-guard is Eddie Shore of Boston Bruins.

Traded to Leafs last fall by Ottawa Senators for the record sum of $35,000 cash and two players, "King" Clancy has convinced the local management that his deal was worth while. A dynamic character on the ice, he has revived a hitherto dormant fighting spirit among the Leafs players and has led the Leafs into a contending position for the Stanley Cup, professional hockey's premier award.

Love of the game and natural ability were handed down to "King" by his father, the equally illustrious and original "King" Clancy, whose name was a by-word in Canadian athletics years ago.

TURNED PRO IN 1921
Born in Ottawa twenty-nine years ago, Clancy did not learn to skate until he was in his fourteenth year. Starting his hockey career with St. Brigid's of the Ottawa City League, his energy, fearlessness and indomitable spirit, coupled with a hard left-hand short soon won him a berth on left wing. Rapidly improving, he caught the eye of professional scouts, and Ottawa Senators, with whom he played for nine consecutive seasons, signed him up in 1921.

Clancy soon developed into a first-rank defence man under tutelage of Eddie Gerard, at present manager of the New York Americans. He has played on three world championship teams, the Senators of 1921, 1923 and 1927.

Only bachelor of the mythical all-star team, Clancy is the idol of the kids, and to the hockey stars of the future he gives every encouragement. On the ice he is the very antithesis of the modest, soft-spoken and rather slow-moving Clancy of every-day life.

CLEAN PLAYER
On the ice Clancy is a clean player, but like Shore, uses his 160 pounds with telling effect on opposing players. Rapidly improving, he caught the eye of professional scouts, and Ottawa Senators, with whom he played for nine consecutive seasons, signed him up in 1921.

CULL'S GOAL GIVES BAYS SOCCER WIN

Scores From Free Kick to Defeat Navy 3 to 2 in Hard-fought Mid-week Game

Victory Keeps Hudson's Bay in Race For Pendray Cup; Second Match Drawn

Riding the crest of a fine winning streak, the Hudson's Bay Wednesday League football team scored a splendid 3 to 2 victory over the Navy eleven yesterday afternoon at the Beacon Hill grounds and remained in the running for the Pendray Cup. In the second match yesterday Saanich United and the Garrison fought to a 2 to 2 draw at the Royal Athletic Park.

With the start of the second half the Navy launched a determined attack, and after Shrimpton had saved from Cockrill, Grierson scored his second goal of the match by heading the leather into the Bays' goal. The Bays fighting desperately to keep their goal clear, The Bays finally broke away and when one of their players was fouled in the penalty area Wright tied the score from the spot shot. During another attack on the Navy goal Baker, their goalie, was hurt and forced to leave the field. Robert Grierson scored the Navy's second goal with a free kick to give the Bays a win.

The teams followed: Hudson's Bay—Shrimpton, Tupman, G. Davis, Cull, Wright, Oakman, Taylor, Fish, Woodley, Small and D. Davis. Navy—Baker, Whyte, Dooley, Plummer, Sadler, Roberts, Hilling, Gleave, Grierson, Cockrill and Cosier.

Coming from behind a two-goal deficit with a spirited rally in the second half the Garrison managed to earn a draw with Saanich United. The Saanich side was leading by 2 to 0 until the first half, when Moir scored from a free kick to tie the score.

The teams were as follows: Saanich United—Tooby, Cunn, Ash, Moir, Stonier, A. Speller, Evis, M. Speller, Burns, Wyatt and Brown. Garrison—Spillers, Burgess, Pink, Senion, Quinn, Linsley, McAlister, B. Shaw, Edwards, Glendinning and Bundock.

ENGLISH CUP SEMI-FINALS ON SATURDAY

Everton Favored to Beat West Bromwich in What Promises to Be Great Match

Sunderland and Birmingham Clash in Other Half of Famous Soccer Series

London, March 12.—With two English Second Division soccer clubs, who previously have won the Football Association Cup, and two First Division clubs, who have held the trophy, the semi-finals of the classic competition next Saturday promise the most interesting of the season in many years.

Everton, a Second Division club, who are favorites to win the cup, meet West Bromwich Albion, from the same section of the league.

Backed up by tradition, who have never been beaten by West Bromwich in cup fights, Everton have one of the best-balanced sides in the country at the present time. Supporting Dixie Dean, their great scoring ace, they have a splendid forward line, sound halves and a brilliant goalkeeper, Cogging. They are expected to overthrow the midlanders, whose side is largely composed of local players in contrast to Everton's expensive imported team. Everton won the cup in 1904, and West Bromwich Albion in 1930. They meet at Manchester on Saturday.

A NOVELTY
The Birmingham and Sunderland match will be novel, in that they have met before in the history of the cup and have yet to clash this season in the league games. Birmingham possesses one of the strongest defenses in the league, including England's goalkeeper, Hibbs, behind excellent backs, clever halves who can keep their forwards moving and forwards led by Bradford, who is deadly on the goal.

Sunderland have a fine forward line of aggressive players with a Scottish left wing, Connor, outstanding, but their defence does not equal that of their opponents. The Birmingham and Sunderland tie will be staged at Leeds.

U.S. Collegiate Golf Tourney Set

Chicago, March 12.—The National Intercollegiate golf championships will be held in the midwest for the first time, June 23-27, at Olympia Fields.

The tournament, inaugurated in 1927, never has been held west of Pittsburgh, where it was played last year. Lawrence F. Noller of Notre Dame is president of the National Intercollegiate Golf Association.

HORSE RACING

Gargle LISTERINE

every 2 hours when you have a COLD or SORE THROAT

In your mouth, a fierce and continuous battle is being waged. The forces of Health against those of Sickness. Nature against Germs—dangerous bacteria that lodge and multiply in the mouth by millions, striving to cause illness. Surely you can appreciate the necessity of using, every day, a mouth wash fatal to germs, yet harmless to tissue!

Physicians have long urged a night and morning gargle with full strength Listerine, the safe antiseptic with the pleasant taste. For Listerine kills germs of all types in 15 seconds. No faster killing time has ever been accurately recorded by science.

Gargle every 2 hours

The morning and night gargle is deemed sufficient, in time of normal health, to keep germs under control and maintain a cleanly condition of the mouth.

But when infection is actually under way, which is the case when you have a cold, sore throat, or inflamed condition of the oral tract, authorities urge that the gargle be repeated every two hours.

By so doing you give the body, now at lower resistance, the extra attacking force it needs to combat the ever-multiplying germs in the mouth.

Mouth germs reduced 98%

If you could look into your mouth with a microscope before and after gargling with Listerine, you would behold a remarkable transformation. Before the gargle you would see millions and millions of germs, alive, wriggling, darting to and fro. After, you would see the same germs dead and powerless to cause harm.

Repeated tests, following the technique employed at great universities, show that full strength Listerine actually reduces bacteria on the surfaces of the mucous membrane 98%.

Take this precaution

At the first symptom of trouble in the oral cavity, begin gargling with Listerine and consult your physician.

Do not be afraid to use Listerine undiluted. Only in this way can you get the full benefit of its germicidal action. Remember that Listerine is non-poisonous, absolutely safe to use, and actually healing to tissue. Lambert Pharmacal Company.

GERMANS SELL MACHINERY TO SOVIET RUSSIA

Berlin, March 12.—A delegation of German industrialists returned yesterday from visit to Soviet Russia and expressed satisfaction over results of their journey.

They intimated considerable orders, especially for the electric and heavy industries, would be the result of their contact with the Soviet officials and engineers, but declined to give any details until they could talk with Chancellor Bruening.

POPULAR AND FAIR SAYS BEATTY OF INCOME TAX

Fair-minded Citizens Not Complaining, Says Victoria Member
Government Received Dollar For Every Dollar Spent, He Says

The one per cent levy on incomes of over $12 per week was defended by J. H. Beatty, Conservative, Victoria, as a sportsmanlike method of raising the revenue to pay for public education in the course of his speech during the debate on the budget in the Legislature yesterday.

In his own circle, Mr. Beatty said, he found the tax quite popular. "I have not yet found," said the Victoria member, "any complaint from any fair-minded person, be he man of large or small means, when the purpose of the tax was properly explained to him."

He thought congratulations were due to the Finance Minister for the statesmanlike manner in which he was tackling the huge problems with which the vote-catching party like the Liberals had saddled the country. Liberals, he said, were fond of talking sentimental rot and were going so far with it that they were deceiving the citizens, those who had their investments in lands, into the poorhouse.

GOVERNMENT TOO MODEST

Mr. Beatty thought the one fault of the present government was that it did not properly let the people know the valuable work it was doing while the Liberals spread propaganda throughout the province. He knew modesty was a virtue but urged the government to secure better distribution of the true facts.

If this were done, the speaker claimed, there would be no objection to the one per cent income tax from fair-minded people. They would be willing to pay it without any exemption whatever.

Thanks were due to the government and Minister of Public Works for the excellent work which was done on the Vancouver Island roads. Malahat Drive was the second busiest road in British Columbia.

DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR

While the opposition criticized the amount of money expended it would be well to remember that for every dollar of money spent value had been received. None of the cabinet ministers had been guilty as were members of the last government in opening up tracts at huge cost, or in spending millions to drain lakes just in order to see what might be in the bottoms of them.

He thought the record of this government in matters of public works would stand as a monument to the future and within a very few years due and just credit would be given the government for their far-sighted forward policy.

He thanked the government for what they had done to assist in redeeming pre-election pledges. They were pressing forward the Ocean Highway, perhaps not as rapidly as could be desired, but nevertheless progressing, and if the member for Alberni would only try to give them a little credit instead of simply finding fault, he felt sure the government would be willing to start building the road from the north end and so assist his district.

VICTORIA COURTHOUSE

The government, through the new Minister of Public Works, was to be thanked for the start on the new court house and land registry office in Victoria. The members knew the old court house stood condemned for many years and was a veritable firetrap. It contained documents relating to all of Vancouver Island which could not be replaced if once destroyed.

Regarding increase of taxes charged against the government the speaker said the only general increase in taxes was the two-cent gasoline tax which went directly to the improvement of roads. Every person in British Columbia was now reaping the benefit therefrom and no one who took the trouble to investigate was complaining. In fact, most of them were so well pleased with the manner in which funds had been administered, that they would willingly see a further increase in such tax, also further road construction. The State of Washington was now paying a tax of six and one-quarter cents per imperial gallon and they were paying a huge personal property tax which makes their annual license greater than that in British Columbia. He expressed the hope the government would be able to make a cut in automobile licenses.

He claimed Liberals were trying to drag the university into politics. "They succeeded quite well during their term in office and, from some evidences it would appear that there are still strong Liberal influences at work spreading insidious propaganda against the government and the taxpayers," he said.

He advocated a system of branch colleges, comparing the cost per student at Victoria College with the cost per student at the University.

CONCESSION FOR NORTH VANCOUVER

Elimination From Reversion Clause on Subdivided Crown Lands

Questions whether North Vancouver was being selected for consideration to which all parts of the province were entitled were raised by Liberal members in the Legislature yesterday when a bill to amend the Land Act was before the House. The bill released North Vancouver from the necessity of forfeiting a quarter of an acre to the Crown in the case of subdivision of acreage of Crown lands.

Hon. N. S. Lougheed said bill was to correct a situation which should never have existed and hardships would be worked in North Vancouver if the forfeit was demanded. It was to put North Vancouver in the same position as Point Grey and surrounding municipalities.

The bill passed the committee stage with the remark of T. D. Pattullo, leader of the opposition, that the opposition in the Legislature was not opposed to the bill, but there had been a declaration from the government that they were opposed to giving the same relief in other districts.

TEACHERS' SALARY GRANT IS RAISED

City to Get Thirty Per Cent From Government Under New Plan

Difference From Old Scheme Amounts to About $20,000, Board Learns

The increased grant from the Provincial Government toward education costs in this city will bring the province's contribution to teachers' salaries up to thirty per cent, it was stated in a letter before the School Board yesterday evening from the Department of Education.

At the present time the provincial grant is $400 per teacher. Although the difference between the old amount and the new grant has not been definitely announced, it is understood to be about $20,000. This matter was explained by Municipal Inspector George H. Deane in the usual camera session following the regular board meeting it is believed.

The board did not discuss estimates in open session yesterday evening and a letter from the Real Estate Board asking for very careful consideration in view of the proposed tax rate increase, was tabled for discussion in camera.

The regular routine of business was fairly light.

ENROLLMENT 2,337

The monthly attendance report for February showed a total enrollment of 5,857 students in city schools with an average attendance of 5,512.84. The enrollment is seventy-five less than the month of February last year and seven less than that for January.

Announcement of two new scholarships for Victoria High School students, awarded by Professor W. S. Gage of Victoria College, was made in a letter from Principal Ira Dilworth and approved by the board. The awards amount to $20 each for the boys, making highest standing in mathematics in the second year and matriculation.

A request for use of the high school auditorium for folk dancing contests during the musical festival this spring was referred to the municipal inspector for report.

Reconsideration of the board's proposal to lay off two members of the outside working staff in view of the unemployment situation was asked by the Victoria Trades and Labor Council, which will be informed the men were not permanent employees.

ASK IMPROVEMENTS

A request from the Oaklands Parent-teacher Association for improvements to the grounds at that school was referred to the building and grounds committee.

Presenting Spring's Newest Styles

At the Season's New Low Prices

Dresses and Ensembles of Chiffon and Georgette

With the full ankle-length skirts of fine chiffon and georgette, in new shades or in black, these are graceful Frocks and things of beauty in themselves, besides being unquestionably becoming.

There are yoked effects and cowl necklines and some are furnished with separate jackets which feature the new open sleeves.

Sizes 36 to 42, and in half sizes for shorter figures. $29.50

Printed Silk Frocks for Larger Figures, $15.00

These colorful prints are fashioned on new and becoming lines for the full figure. The styles are smart and modish with draped skirts and novelty vests, and there are also some simple sleeveless Frocks with coatee "en suite." Some are trimmed with plain fabric or dainty embroidery effects. $15.00
Sizes 42 to 46. Price.....

"Langburne" Coats

Are Tailored Exclusively for Hudson's Bay Company

Fashioned from pure-wool and camels' hair fabrics imported from European mills, and tailored with expert care and attention to fashion detail, "Langburne" Coats are in a class by themselves.

Latest Styles

The styles feature the new length, semi-fitting with higher waistlines and some belted and wrap-around styles. The new novelty collars are sometimes distinguished with colored scarves or throws of self materials and there are a few trimmed with summer furs, and in plain tailored effects. "Langburne" Coats are moderately priced at

Alfred Tripp, charged with driving to the common danger, was remanded until Wednesday when he appeared in the City Police Court this morning.

Leong Chong, who pleaded guilty to a charge of cruelty to animals, was fined $20 and $5 costs in the City Police Court this morning. It was a second offence.

Support of the silver tea to be held next Wednesday by the St. Matthew Begbie Chapter, I.O.D.E., aboard the Coast Mission boat Columbia, was sought from the Rotary Club in a letter read at its luncheon to-day.

Stewart Williams, auctioneer, specializing in private house sales and valuations for insurance purposes, has changed his place of business from the building on the corner of Blanshard and New Streets, to 312 Sayward Building.

J. C. Campbell, head of the publicity department of the dominion party, will address a joint meeting of the Canadian clubs in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel at 8 o'clock to-morrow evening. Pictures of the various parks of Canada will be shown.

A. W. Arnap will deliver an interesting discourse entitled "Can a Solution be Found for the Economic Conditions Existing To-day?" at the British-Israel Association meeting on Tuesday evening next at 8 o'clock at Ampleforth Hall, 739 Yates Street.

A meeting to form a ratemakers' association will be held in the Chamber of Commerce to-morrow evening with Frank Higgins, K.C., in the chair. A report dealing with the petition bureau will be given. Envelopes will be handed out at the door to those wishing to become members of the association. These will be collected during the meeting.

Ex-members of the 57th Battalion Western Scouts are reminded of the annual reunion dinner which will take place on Saturday evening, March 21, at 8.30 o'clock, at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. Tickets may be obtained at Price & Smith Limited, W. & J. W. Red Cross Work Shops or from any member of the committee.

Under the auspices of the newly-formed Beaver Club the employees of Hudson's Bay Company Store will hold a masquerade dance at the Shrine Auditorium next Monday evening. The dancing will be from 12 o'clock and it is expected that some weird and wonderful characters will be seen. Prizes are to be awarded for the best-dressed lady, the best-dressed gentleman (and lady), the best costume and also consolation prizes. Invitations may be obtained from any member of the store staff.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Adelaide Jalland, who passed away Sunday evening, was held yesterday afternoon, the cortege proceeding from the parlour of the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home to the Fairfield United Church. There was an unusually large attendance and many beautiful floral tributes surrounded the casket. The church choir, under Major Henry Watts, attended in a body and assisted with the singing. Mrs. Edmund Woodward rendered as solo "Sleep Thy Last Sleep." The hymns sung were "Peace, Perfect Peace" and "For All the Saints Who From Their Labor Rest." Rev. Hugh Nixon conducted the service, assisted by Rev. Dr. C. T. Scott and Rev. R. J. McIntyre, all of who eulogized the late Mrs. Jalland. Interment was in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery. The following acted as pallbearers: A. Schroeder, G. Green, A. C. Pike, E. B. Jones, R. T. Murphy and A. C. Charlton.

Yesterday evening at St. Joseph's Hospital, the death occurred of James McCleave, a resident of Bamerton. He was born in Ireland twenty-eight years ago and had resided in the district for twenty-two years. He is survived by his widow and one son; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart McCleave, 126 Ladysmith Street; and one sister, Mrs. C. Eastwood of Victoria. The remains are resting at McCall Bros' Funeral Chapel, pending funeral arrangements.

Many friends attended the funeral of Frances Lillian Dawkin, which took place yesterday afternoon from McCall Bros' Funeral Home. Rev. T. A. Jansen conducted the service, during which the hymns, "Jesu, Lover of My Soul" and "My Faith Looks Up to Thee," were sung. Interment was in Royal Oak Burial Park. The following acted as pallbearers: L. Freer, C. Procter, C. Meyland and J. E. Meyland.

The remains of Charles Harrison Gibbons are at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, from where the funeral will take place on Saturday morning at 10.30 o'clock. Canon J. Hinchliffe will officiate. Interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

The regular meeting of the City Temple Y.P.S. was held on Monday at Temple Hall. The president, Harold McCaw, was in the chair. The hymn "Rock of Ages" was sung. The speaker for the evening, Herbert Manson, who was introduced by Cecil Chaffield, gave an interesting talk on "The Biology and Science of Life." The members received a treat in the form of a whistling solo by Reggie Stoffer. The next meeting of the society will be held on Monday, March 30. All young people are invited to attend.

The undersigned co-operative and private concerns of Vancouver Island and Gulf Islands, wish to state that we are strongly opposed to the introduction of so-called "compulsory co-operation." We believe it to be in the best interests of the dairy industry that co-operation be voluntary on the part of those concerned.

The Bennett Government, having within the past year placed substantial duties on all butter imports (the price at present being higher than anywhere else in the world) we believe that the much-discussed "problem" of surplus milk is thereby solved. British Columbia produces only one-third of its consumption of butter and any surplus of milk or cream should logically be used to supply the constant demands for good creamy butter.

"Regarding the letter you have received under date of March 4, 1931, from R. E. Barkley, president of the Cowichan Creamery Association, we also wish to say that we are heartily in accord with the sentiments expressed therein."

"Signed by Victoria City Dairy, Royal Water District Act were introduced to the Legislature by Col. G. A. Walkem. They ratify the Water Board's demand that Richmond, whereby free water may be supplied for cash in payment for the municipality's water system."

They also allow two or three smaller municipalities to be represented on the board by one man instead of by one or more. Owing to the provision that property qualifications are altered to permit the representative of one municipality to act for several on the board.

Antwerp, Belgium, March 12.—Yielding to protests from importers of this city, the government will cancel restrictive measures adopted against wheat imports from Russia. To guard against possible Soviet wheat "dumping," however, import licenses will be re-established.

MRS. NORTH TO OPPOSE HOLDING OF CIRCUS HERE

Police Commissioner Will Fight Against Sideshows Coming to City

Gives Letter, Threatening to Blow Up Her Home, to Chief of Police

Police Commissioner Mrs. Dorothy North announced this morning she would directly oppose any move to bring Conklin & Garrett circus show to the city this year.

The type of entertainment provided by these people was not in the best interests of the citizens, she declared in stating her opposition to the tentative approval given by the City Council Monday night to a plan to bring the show here.

"I will fight the council on this matter," she said. "The show will not be given in the city."

There is a possibility the subject will be discussed at the meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners to-morrow afternoon.

Mrs. North also brought to the notice of the public a threatening letter received at her home yesterday. Signed with three K's, it reads as follows:

"If within thirty-six hours after the arrival of the circus you have not left the city, your house will be bombed and razed."

The letter has been turned over to the Chief of Police.

Incidents leading up to the firing by Charles Luscombe of three shots and wounding of H. N. Dunnnett between 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning of October 4 last in the Luscombe cabin at Prospect Lake, were detailed at the opening to-day of the trial of Luscombe before Mr. Justice Gregory and a jury in the criminal assizes.

Dunnnett, limping on a cane, was put in the box by E. V. Finland, prosecuting attorney. Dunnnett said his wife and daughter drove him out to his place at Prospect Lake in the afternoon. That night he took a stone hammer and went to the cabin at his cabin, believing that the wife might induce him to go out hunting with him.

"We talked for an hour and a half about sport," Dunnnett went on. "It was in the kitchen and his rifle was standing near the cupboard."

"He had an idea I knew something about a dog that he lost a couple of days ago. He went into a temper, all of a sudden and grabbed the rifle. I stood up and he shot me three times. I dropped where I was standing. He tried to kill me with the stone hammer and he pretty near did it too. I'm a cripple for life. He stood over me as I lay on the ground and I thought he was going to finish me off. I asked him not to kill me. After that I can't remember a thing, as I must have fainted."

HAD A LITTLE WHISKY
Richard Lowe, defence counsel, asked whether Dunnnett considered Luscombe a friend or even a gentleman.

"Certainly not," replied Dunnnett. "Why then did you go to his place at night, to ask him to go out shooting with you if you did not consider him a friend or even a gentleman?" Mr. Lowe asked. "Were you sober?"

"Well, I had a little whisky in the evening."

"Did you have any loganberry wine, too?"

"Very little, as I don't care for it much."

IN REPLY TO MR. LOWE, Dunnnett said he had not taken his rifle with him when he went to Luscombe's house to ask him to go out hunting with him.

Witness said that he had not to his knowledge seen any dogs at Luscombe's house that night.

I saw two dogs there previously, however, Dunnnett was asked. "How many dogs were there if you saw two?" the judge asked.

Dunnnett went on to say he asked Luscombe if he would take a drink of loganberry wine.

DID NOT KNOW LIQUOR SELLER
In reply to further questioning, Dunnnett said he did not know the man from whom he got the loganberry wine, but he said he knew where he got it. He said he was to the man $1 for his trouble in giving him the cork of wine, but he gave him a 50-cent bottle.

Asked whether he had had much to drink before starting on the loganberry wine, Dunnnett said: "I had a little wine, but I was sober."

TO CURE NEURALGIA
Questioned as to whether he took with him any whisky, Dunnnett admitted that he had a little in "a little spirit bottle" for his wife, who had neuralgia and whom he advised to take some for her neuralgia.

Mr. Lowe asked how it was he took the cork of wine from Luscombe if he did not like the stuff.

Mr. Justice Gregory: "Probably he thought Luscombe would have a little more refined taste."

DENIES DESTRUCTION
Dunnnett denied that he had tried to force Luscombe to drink or that he had grabbed him by the throat, or that he had torn up Luscombe's pillow and smashed his belongings.

"I was dazed all the time," he continued. "You were not then in a fit condition to be hunting that morning?" Mr. Lowe asked. "Do you remember being convicted for your driving on the highway?"

BEATTY FAVORS ABOLITION OF DEATH DUTIES

Abolition of succession duties in British Columbia was advocated by J. H. Beatty, Conservative, Victoria, during the debate on the budget yesterday in the Legislature. Within a decade, he said, it would be one of the best investments that could possibly be made.

People with huge fortunes, he said, were leaving the Old Country and going to places where they could live without fear of their fortunes being confiscated. Many of them from the Old Country, from the United States and from eastern Canada could be induced to come to British Columbia and they would bring their wealth with them, which could be used to provide work for the people of the province if succession duties were abolished.

WOMEN ELDERLY ARE SUPPORTED BY PRESBYTERY

Vancouver Island United Churches Favor Bible in Schools

Rev. A. W. McIntosh of Vancouver Nominated as Conference President

Daily reading of Scripture in the public schools and admission of women to the office of elders in the United Church will be strongly supported by Victoria Presbytery of the United Church, which yesterday afternoon terminated two days of deliberations at the First United Church, under the presidency of Rev. M. W. Lees of Courtenay.

The Presbytery unanimously supported nomination of Rev. A. W. McIntosh for the presidency of the British Columbia conference. The candidate is pastor of St. Giles Church, Vancouver. For the office of conference secretary the Presbytery will support Rev. A. D. Archibald of Vancouver and will offer Rev. A. S. Bunt of Mission City as treasurer. The conference will meet in Victoria on May 13, sessions being held in First United Church.

BIBLE READING
In the matter of the Bible in the schools, the Presbytery aligned itself with the Religious Education Council of British Columbia, which will recommend to next year's sitting of the Legislature that, subject to the local school board, the reading of selected passages of the Bible and the recitation of the Lord's Prayer take place daily at the opening or closing of the school, the attendance on the part of pupils to be optional. The recently issued compilation of the Ontario Department of Education was suggested as a suitable manual.

WOMEN AS ELDERS
By a vote of forty-three to three the Presbytery favored admitting women as elders. The matter was considered on a remit sent down by the general council of the United Church from its London meeting last September, the remit to be answered by the presbyteries and its pastoral charges throughout Canada. The action of the next council, which would involve an amendment to the basis of union, will depend upon the registered judgment of the presbyteries and congregations.

MUCH MONEY RAISED
Rev. W. R. Welch of Nanaimo reported that $71,554 had been raised for local church purposes, and that $100,000 had been raised for the contributions for missions and benevolence of the congregations and the women's missionary societies amounted to almost $20,000. There were 1,662 young people, boys and girls, enrolled in church clubs and societies.

FISHERY MISSIONS
Home missions and aided charges were reviewed by Rev. W. F. Burns of Duncan, chairman of the home mission committee. On account of the west coast of fishing operations on the West Coast the mission vessel, Melvin Swartout, in charge of Rev. James Dewar will be wintered at the Cape Mudge Mission, while the boat there, the Edward White, will take duty at the Cape Mudge Mission.

The preaching appointments around Nanaimo will be consolidated under the care of an ordained missionary, under the name of the Nanaimo Suburban Mission. The duty of the Indian church at Nanaimo under the care of Halliburton Street congregation had worked out satisfactorily.

TO ENTERTAIN TRADE GROUP
Junior Canadian Delegates to Be Guest at Chamber of Commerce Luncheon

An invitation has been extended to the eight young Junior Canadian Government trade commission delegates, due in Victoria this week-end, to attend the luncheon of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce on Monday. It was announced at the Chamber last yesterday.

The party is formed of young men who have been delegated to various trade organizations of Canada in foreign lands. They are making a tour of the dominion in preparation for their work. Following are the men who form the body: S. G. MacDonald, A. K. Doull, R. W. McBurney, R. P. Bower, M. T. Stewart, H. L. Brown, T. J. Money and R. G. C. Smith.

WILL MEET INDUSTRIAL HEADS
During their stay here the young men will be given an opportunity to meet heads of the different industries in Victoria. T. J. Goodlake, secretary of the local branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, is in charge of the arrangements for this part of the programme.

At the luncheon on Monday, the party, along with Jack Matson, winner of the Chamber of Commerce Cup in the Empress Hotel midwinter golf tournament, who will receive a trophy from the directors, will hear an illustrated address by J. C. Campbell, publicity head of the National Parks Board. Mr. Campbell will show the members several new reels of the beauty spots of Canada during his talk.

EIGHT TAKEN IN RADS BY POLICE
Police raids on rooming houses at 506 Port Street and 550 Johnson Street yesterday evening resulted in the appearance in the City Police Court this morning of eight people. One pleaded guilty and the others were remanded until next Tuesday.

The accused women: Blanche Ward, charged as keeper of a disorderly house at 506 Port Street, released on $200 bail. Betty Watson and Lena Phillips, charged as inmates of the same place, released on $50 bail. Lenora Nollert, charged as keeper of a disorderly house at 550 Johnson Street, released on $200 bail. Emma Deckard, Mary David, Bert Ross and Jim Lee, charged as inmates of 550 Johnson Street. Ross pleaded guilty and was fined $25, the others being remanded on $50 bail. R. C. Lowe represents the accused.

STOLEN CAR MAY BE CLUE

Motor House Reports Vehicle Missing Since Saturday; Sought By Police

In the hope that some clue to the three safe-crackings here last week-end may be uncovered, police have undertaken an intensive search for a dark blue sedan car stolen from the Motor House, Yates Street, last Saturday. Theft of the car was not reported until yesterday, but it was apparently taken prior to the burglaries.

Although the car had no license plates when stolen, the possibility that it might be spotted on the streets of the city is a possibility that is being followed up. The car had no license plates when stolen, the possibility that it might be spotted on the streets of the city is a possibility that is being followed up.

It was reported Monday morning that the Motor House had been entered by thieves over the week-end, but at that time it was not thought anything was missing. A subsequent check on the used cars revealed that one was missing.

No other developments in the case are reported, although Chief Thomas Kealey expressed hope that certain lines along which police are now working might prove fruitful.

ARCHITECTS SEEK GOVERNMENT WORK
Delegation Asks Premier For Allocation of Work to Private Members of Profession

A delegation of the Architectural Institute of B.C. yesterday interviewed Premier Tomin to ask that government work be allocated to regular practicing architects instead of maintaining a large government staff.

The delegation consisted of: J. Y. McCarter, Vancouver, and Hubert Sav-

Construction of 200 special type logging cars at the Russell Street workshops of the Esquimalt and Nanaimo Railway was completed to-day. The staff of forty men employed on the contract will shortly be reorganized in preparation for resumption of the normal summer schedule of maintenance operations along the railway.

The usual allocation of funds for maintenance has been included in the railway's budget, but no appropriation has so far been made for new work of importance.

Construction of the 200 logging cars has been of substantial importance in lessening the amount of unemployment in Victoria and at a number of Island lumbering centres.

While the workmen of Victoria enjoyed the wages involved in building the cars, almost all the lumber required was furnished by Up-Island mills, Chemsunau having especially benefited from contracts for supply of materials.

With the exception of wheels and a small amount of steel for tie-bars and brake equipment, practically the whole of the cost of the 200 cars has been expended on Vancouver Island.

MOTOR OUTPUT UP FOR MARCH; DEMAND GAINS

Ford Schedule For Month Is
100,000; Chevrolet Plans
78,713

Detroit, March 12.—Increase in March production schedules by various motor companies is a direct reflection of a larger retail demand which developed during February but leading executives are most concerned to-day in whether the upturn has been prompted by the unusual open weather conditions, or whether it is the beginning of a real revival.

Ford has not released official figures for March, but various suppliers' orders indicate that at least a 100,000 schedule will be attempted, which is a considerable increase over the 80,000 for February. Chevrolet will increase 12,000 cars to 78,713. Studebaker 2,000 to 6,000, Oldsmobile 1,500 to 7,500 and Buick 2,100 to 10,000. Hudson reports that March schedules will be thirty-six per cent greater than February. Overland will increase 3,000 cars to 10,000, against 7,000 in February.

MAKES NON-COMMITTAL

Few executives are willing to commit themselves on the situation very far ahead. The response to most inquiries is: "We are trying to keep production strictly in line with retail sales."

Dealers are ordering cars frequently and instances are multiplying where shortages exist in popular body types. There have been more driveways in the past ten days than at any time in months. Oakland-Pontiac resorted to rush shipments of trainload lots on ten occasions in February.

It has been several years since there has been a real shortage of automobiles in the spring market and, while the consensus of opinion holds against such a condition, two well known companies report that their dealers are beginning to stock cars. It is already apparent that some of the soldiers' bonus money will go into new automobiles.

TRUCK SALES UP

Close attention is being given weather and drought conditions. California and several western sections report to sales headquarters that the effect of the drought has passed. It is said that the general rains in the middle west a week ago were quickly reflected in motor sales of one company. Sales of light motor trucks have been increasing.

From a profit standpoint, it appears that February will probably make up a sizeable portion of January operating losses and, with the growing indications for March, some companies may report an even break or a small profit for the first quarter.

It is generally conceded in executive circles that the critical time for determining profit possibilities for 1931 will come about the first of April. On the whole, the experience of January and February and the March developments are considerably better than was expected at the first of the year.

Security Holders To Study Canada Paper Outlook

Toronto, March 12.—Linked up with yesterday's announcement that a securities protective association had been formed to "study the whole Canadian power and paper situation," a representative of the association, an expert on the security situation, said that the new print Institute formed a year or more ago when over-production and price-cutting threatened the future of the industry in Ontario and Quebec, The Toronto Globe says to-day.

"Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, then Premier of Ontario, and Premier Tassard of Quebec, took a personal interest in the situation and had many meetings with pulp and paper men here and in Montreal," the newspaper said. "Conditions were such at that time that mills were closed down, with consequent hardship to the workers. With the intervention of the two governments and investigation into the contract made by one of the large companies with the Hearst newspaper interests in New York, there was a gradual improvement in the situation, ending in a very definite scale of prices."

"There have been reports recently that this Newspaper Institute may be dissolved. The formation of the committee by the Canada Paper Company in Montreal may have considerable bearing on the future operations of the Institute."

Crown Zellerbach Reports Earn

For the nine months ended January 31, 1931, Crown Zellerbach Corporation, operating B.C. paper plants, a San Francisco Stock Exchange listing reports gross profit of $8,078,341 and net income, after all prior charges and preferred dividends, totaling $563,522. For the third quarter profits before depreciation, depletion, bond amortization and income taxes, the corporation reported $1,859,579, minority stockholders' interest $41,839, leaving $1,817,740 net income available to Crown Zellerbach Corporation.

Crown Zellerbach Paper Company's figures which have also been released show gross profit of $5,559,928 for the nine months. Depreciation, depletion, bond interest and tax aggregated $3,660,441. Net income after all charges and including minority stockholders' interest of $37,238 totaled $1,853,549.

Mrs. A. Critchley returned on Tuesday from Vancouver.

Mrs. E. W. Connor and her daughters Mona and Grace, are visiting relatives and friends in Vancouver.

WHITNEY LETTER

(By Logan & Bryan)

New York, March 12.—Whitney of The Wall Street Financial Bureau says: ADVANCE INTERRUPTED

"The not entirely unexpected but thoroughly unwelcome reduction in New York Central 'D' dividend cut short a rally and turned the day into one of the most highly irregular sessions we have had for weeks. This sort of news, we believe, will from time to time check the market's normal rallies, as it did yesterday, so that further advance will find itself interrupted by days of weakness when one of the many inevitable dividend reductions occurs in a place as important as yesterday, all of which means that we will need more time for boom market to register progress on the upside than if we were not confronted with a period which, as previously stated, is essential one in which poor news is the most assured thing to be looked for."

"At the same time, thoroughly believe that for the immediate and near term period we have made a solid bottom at the 178 level in the industrial averages, the important thing to bear in mind being that for the best part of a week we may have to go through a period in which the market after putting many stocks to new high points, will in turn have to recognize weakness in other sections of the list, even to the extent of allowing a new low to two or three particular news come out in individual cases, both of these extremes often occurring within a day of each other just as they have done in the present instance."

"The only position that a trader can take, as a result, is to keep away from the stocks which are obviously in line to reveal particularly bad situations and hold the good ones through temporary adversity for the higher prices they are due to register once the market breaks out of the limited range on the upside. The time that it will take to go through this process is open to some question, but hardly think there is any question as to direction in which the emergency will be made when it comes, nor that the emergency will be made on the upside rather suddenly when it is least expected."

COMMENT
"Another advance of 1/2 cent in silver has brought on a sizable boom in raw wool in the London and Australian markets, all of which shows the potency of rising silver prices. The group which I believe traders should carefully avoid on the long side are the coppers, theatres, and oils, to which can be added individual stocks such as the independent oil, Westinghouse Electric, Allied Chemical, Evers Pipe and American Power and Light. On the other hand, American machine and foundry has shown us another high, Julius Kayser, within a fraction of its top and the balance of the stocks pointed out here in the last few days are acting favorably."

Ford Makes Ready At Highland Park For New Edison Car

Montreal, March 12.—The following is issued by Johnston & Ward:

"We have the following from Detroit on the rumored new eight-cylinder Ford: No further activity worthy of comment has taken place over the past several days in regard to the proposed V-type eight-cylinder higher-priced Edison car. Machinery and equipment continue to be received at the Highland Park plant, which leads us to reiterate our opinion that the new car when ready will most likely be produced at that point. The time element in connection with its introduction remains rather obscure, due to the fact that our reports indicate manufacturing costs are still under consideration and have not as yet been completely worked out."

How Should the Members of a Family Behave Toward Each Other?—What a Man Wears Tells the Kind of Husband He Will Make

DEAR MISS DIX—What should be the conduct in the home of the members of a family toward each other?
MRS. L. R.

Answer—The ideal conduct of the members of a family toward each other would be that which they use toward perfect strangers on whom they wish to make a good impression. That is to say, they should be courteous, considerate, deferential, flattering and appreciative.

If mother was father's hostess at a dinner, for instance, he would praise the food, and he would listen with an absorbed expression of interest to everything she said, and he would appear to be impressed with her opinions, and he would tell her how young and beautiful she looked and what a charming gown she had on, and mother would be pleased, and bride, and a lot of her youthful charm and coquetry would come back to her.

But does father treat mother that way? Not on your life. Father hangs down at the dinner table, and he scowls at mother and says, "What, roast beef again? My lord, woman, haven't you any imagination? Don't the butcher shop carry any other kind of meat except beef? And look at this bread! How in heaven a woman can make bread every day for twenty years and never learn how to make a biscuit that isn't better fitted for artillery practice than it is for human consumption, beats me."

And if mother ventures an opinion, father tells her she doesn't know what she is talking about, and whether she has on a bungalow apron or a Paris confection is all one to him. He never notices her, or if he does, he never mentions it. And mother just sort of withers under the way father treats her, and either gets so she is jumpy and afraid of him, or else passes into the "Oh-what's-the-use" state.

And when a strange gentleman is expected to dinner mother puts on her prettiest frock and gets a fresh wave and manicure, and she is gay and alluring, and she laughs at all the guests' stories, though she may have heard them forty times before, and she tells him how wonderful he is to have pulled off that big deal, or won that famous law suit, or driven his car 300 miles in eight hours, and she never mentions any of his little faults or shortcomings to him.

But she doesn't think it worth while to primp up of an evening just for father. And when father comes home she begins to remind him of all the things he has forgotten to do, and to nag him about mistakes that he made ten years ago, and when father starts off on his favorite story mother says: "Oh, for pity sake, are you going to tell that again?" And she doesn't bother to jolly father along and tell him how wonderful and smart he is.

And there is brother. When brother is out with the girls he is the life of the party. So amusing and entertaining, but at home he sits up as silent as a dummy, or is as gruff as a sore-headed bear. He doesn't waste any of his keen line on his family. When he takes out a little fluff-haired flapper he lifts her into the car as carefully as if she were glass and he was afraid she would break. He picks up her handkerchief and carries her purse and waits on her hand and foot.

But he lets sister bring in the coal and if she wants a new tire put on the automobile she can darn well do it herself. And he tells Sadie and Mamie how lovely they look in pyjamas, but he tells sister when she puts hers on that she looks like a fool screeching in the wind, and that if she had a grain of sense in her head she would know that real he-men loathed girls who tried to make imitation men of themselves.

And sister is so mild and amiable that butter wouldn't melt in her mouth when she is out in company, and she is so deferential to all the old ladies and gentlemen, and takes so much pains to entertain them that they think she is a regular angel. But she is sassy as you please to mamma and papa at home and doesn't hesitate to tell them they are back numbers and their opinions ought to be put in an antique among the curios.

And when sister steps out with Tom, Dick or Harry she breaks her neck to please him and agrees with everything he says and flatters him up to the limit and she hangs with breathless rapture on his words, no matter how dull he is or how much he monologues along about himself. She corrects his grammar and his pronunciation and his table manners. She tells him that anybody with carrot hair and a snub nose and a freckled face shows they haven't any taste when they buy a brown suit like his new one, and how that little Flossy Jones could have fallen for him is something she never could understand, except Flossy never did have any sense, anyway.

So there you are, and it is because families treat each other like families instead of like strangers that homes are what they are and domestic rows are common and divorce increases. It is queer and sad that people who love each other better than anybody else in the world treat each other worse than they do anybody else in the world. But so it is. And it is pitiful to realize that just the use of a little politeness would solve most of the domestic problems and bring about a sort of domestic millennium.
DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—Not long ago you gave men a tip about how to judge women by their clothes. Now tell us how to judge a man by what he wears.
US GIRLS.

Answer—A man's clothes are not quite as much a give-away as a woman's because they are so standardized that there is little left to his individual choice, and that cramps his self-expression. The only time that a woman is entitled to pity a man is when she goes shopping.

Here is the limitless range of every color of the spectrum and she has chiffons and gay brocades and supple velvets and soft woolsens and of endless forms and fashions from which to select. He, poor soul, can only choose from among drab-colored, tubular garments, each the rubber stamp of countless others, that must make buying his clothes an ordeal to him instead of the joy that getting new things is to women.

You can't even tell whether a man's taste is gay or sombre, or whether he is original or not by his clothes because whenever he dares to put on anything out of the ordinary he is driven back into the uniform of his sex by the derision of his fellows. However, the way a man dresses does give some tip on his character that a girl does well to consider.

If, for instance, a man is careless about shaving and appears habitually with a stubble of beard on his face, he is bone-lazy and self-indulgent and generally lacking in enterprise and ambition. He will make the sort of a husband who will never get along because he will do just as little work as he can to hold down the easiest job he can find. If he marries a business woman he will soon knock off work altogether and let her support him, and if he marries a domestic woman she will always have to wait on him hand and foot.

If a man is careless about his dress and wears a coat of one suit and a waistcoat of another and trousers of a third, he is lacking in taste and judgment, and is the sort of a man who always takes the easiest way and never does anything just quite right. Such a man is generally easy going and pleasant to live with, but he will never make any startling success in the world.

The man who always buys the wrong thing, colors that swear at each other, hats that are last season's style, trousers that are too wide or too narrow, or too short or too long, lacks observation and perception, and he will always be a little behind the procession. He will never be one who sees opportunities, or be the first to adopt a better way of doing things.

But the man who is what we call "a snappy dresser," who is always up to the minute, who knows what to buy and how to wear it, is a go-getter. Especially keep your eye on the young man who will deny himself other things in order to be well dressed. He will get there.
DOROTHY DIX.

JOHN BOLES SINGS IN "RESURRECTION" ON CAPITOL SCREEN

A dozen or more husky studio technicians have demonstrated that tears are not an exclusive feminine medium of expressing the feeling of a heart that has been touched.

When Edwin Carewe was making Tolstoy's great love epic, "Resurrection," in which John Boles and Lupe Velez are co-starring, at the Capitol Theatre all this week, he invited his technical staff to watch the scenes run off in the studio projection room at the end of the day's work.

On several occasions, when the lights were suddenly turned on after the "rushes" had been projected, the most virile men were found rubbing moist eyes with the backs of their hands and coat sleeves, each trying to prevent his neighbor thinking him a "cry-baby."

"THE SEA WOLF" TO SHOW AT PLAYHOUSE STARTING ON MONDAY

King of his little floating kingdom, a Caliban who experimented on human souls, a merciless brute who would kill a man as readily as he would light a cigar, a philosopher with a cruel, effective, theory of life—such is the strange character Milton Sills portrays in the title role of "The Sea Wolf," unusual Fox Movietone offering that opens at the Playhouse Theatre next week.

A young waster abandoned aboard his schooner, and an alluring girl who makes the long voyage aboard the vessel for reasons of her own, are the two principal victims of the Wolf's methods, and a gripping drama has been woven about this singular triangle. Jane Keith and Raymond Hackett have the principal romantic roles in this first talking version of Jack London's immortal story, which Alfred Santell directed.

CLIVE BROOK PLAYS STARRING ROLE IN "ANYBODY'S WOMAN"

Paul Lukas has an important supporting role in "Anybody's Woman," the Paramount picture in which Ruth Chatterton and Clive Brook are co-starring at the Coliseum Theatre all this week.

Lukas plays the part of a wealthy New York merchant who befriends Brook, but who later makes love to Miss Chatterton, who is seen as Brook's wife.

His part in "Anybody's Woman" came after he signed a new contract with Paramount-Public. He has been seen in such successes as "The Wolf of Wall Street," "Halfway to Heaven," "Young Eagles," "The Benson Murder Case," "Grumpy," and the current production.

Lukas was a star for several seasons on the stage in Budapest, Berlin and Vienna. He came to the United States to play a role opposite Pola Negri in "Loves of an Actress," and acted in parts in several other silent films. He mastered English during his stay in this country, and remained in Hollywood when sound became the vogue.

WESTERN TOWN FORMS PICTURESQUE LOCALE FOR COLUMBIA FILM

Despite the advent of transatlantic hops, dirigibles and other marvels of our progressive age, certain towns in the United States have not progressed one iota in the last fifty years. Travel through out-of-the-way sections of Arizona, Texas and New Mexico, and you can still see cow ponies bearing heavy Mexican saddles, and the riders, central square, and broad-shouldered riders hanging about what was once the local saloon. In such towns there is invariably a law-abiding citizen, and a sheriff whose duties are almost as active today as they were in the Jesse James' period.

Just such a town as this is depicted in "Men Without Law," the Columbia "western," starring Buck Jones, the daredevil, now showing at the Columbia Theatre. The film abounds with all those thrills that such a locale would suggest. The romance is provided by the attractive Carmelita Geraghty. Louis King directed.

"OUTWARD BOUND" TO SHOW SATURDAY AT THE COLISEUM

Announcement is made by James McGrath, manager of the Coliseum Theatre, that "Outward Bound," the Warner Bros. and Vitaphone production adapted by J. Grubb Alexander from the internationally successful play by Sutton Vane, will be the next attraction, starting Saturday for a run of six days.

One of the greatest casts ever assembled for a talking picture will be seen in "Outward Bound," including Leslie Howard, star of the London and New York stage; Douglas Fairbanks Jr.,

Beryl Mercer, Dudley Digges, Helen Chandler, Alec B. Francis, Alison Skipworth, Montagu Love and Lionel Watts.

Robert Milton directed the production, which deals with a daring conception of life beyond, showing the adventures of seven travelers to that unknown land—including two young lovers, who try to leave this world to escape separation.
